Wanted . . . Leadership

The unsanitary condition of Bogartown creek has made Mayor Vale's hope for a swimming pool for Newmarket children an impractical one. It is most unfortunate. The site was pleasant, between Lydia and Timothy Sts., and a pool easily constructed there by damming the creek. First water tests indicated clean water, and on the strength of those tests, it looked as if Newmarket would have its swimming pool within a matter of days. When the final tests showed unsanitary water, there was no alternative but to drop that particular project.

But is the whole idea of a swimming place for Newmarket to be dropped at the same time? What a shame that would be. For years a swimming pool has been a hope of Newmarket. It is a thoroughly practical, as well as pleasure-giving need. Instruction in water safety given there would be instrumental in saving lives.

There is a near-unanimous desire on the part of the citizens to have a swimming pool in Newmarket. Towards that end, various organizations have collected or set aside funds. The difficulty, as described at a meeting of the board of health last week, has been the lack of agreement on site and facilities. What is required is a strong committee to focus attention upon the immediate provision of a pool, bring together supporting organizations in pursuit of that purpose.

The town council, by its setting aside $2,000 for the mayor's project, has shown itself definitely sympathetic to the idea. It could go a step further and take the lead in providing an alternative to the Bogartown creek project. The site is practical for a pool. Creek water, if filtered and chlorinated, could be used to fill the pool. The recreation council could provide supervision.

All that is required is leadership, and the town council, as senior municipal body, could easily provide it. Let's make the most of this opportunity.

Much Building Done In Aurora, District

Aurora—At the present time construction work is on the upswing in the Aurora area. Over 25 houses are underway, and this figure is expected to be nearly doubled in the next short while.

A large part of Aurora construction work is being done by the Aurora Building Company. At Bowlake Farms, two houses, two dams, a four-car garage and a barn are being built. Work has begun on the Collis Leather Reservoir which will measure 62 feet by 82 feet and will be 12 feet in depth. The architects are Fleury and Arthur.

A new sheet metal shop is also under construction at the rear of the Bowser Hardware, while a number of homes are either under construction or in the process of renovation in Aurora and the surrounding district.

In Newmarket, the new Odeon Theatre is to be constructed by the Aurora Building Company for Bondi Brothers. Seating approximately 650, the theatre will measure 132 feet by 42 feet. Architects are Molesworth, Seccord and Savage. Alterations have been made to the main building of the York County Industrial Home and the adjacent barn repaired.

It is generally felt that the increased construction work at present underway signifies the development of the whole district. This is considered especially true for Aurora which is expanding greatly. If the present rate continues, Aurora's population should increase greatly in the next few years.

Aurora Commission Gets $3,206 Return On Rink

Aurora—A report by the Aurora Recreation Commission this week disclosed that the returns from their operation of the Aurora arena last winter totalled $3,206.98. Last fall the commission leased the arena for the 1948-49 season for $800. Despite the poor weather last winter, which seriously curtailed winter sports, the commission enjoyed a profitable year. The winter's program included the Junior and Intermediate hockey clubs, which combined to bring in over $1,500.

Starting from scratch, the commission, through the donations of labor and materials by private citizens, renovated the rink. The value of these alterations is estimated at over $1,000 by the commission.

Other sources of revenue were St. Andrew's College and the Toronto Hockey League. Free skating was provided to school children, and the rink was turned over to the Aurora Lions club and Canadian Legion hockey clubs rental free.

Assist Mrs. Doolittle With Kitchen Shower

Aurora—On Thursday evening, July 14, the members of the Ladies' Auxiliary, Legion branch 385, held a kitchen shower at the home of their president, Mrs. Elsie Duffield, for Mrs. Clarence Doolittle to help replace loss during their recent fire. Mrs. Doolittle replied stating that she had no idea that comradeship would go so deep. A dainty lunch was served by the committee under the splendid leadership of Mrs. O. Heath.

Early Graduates Visit York County Hospital

Aurora — Mrs. Jack Grant, Niagara-on-the-Lake, and Mrs. H. D. Hodgkinson, Aurora, two of the first nurses to graduate from York County hospital, visited and were shown through the hospital on Wednesday afternoon.

Both nurses are very proud to have trained at a hospital that has made such advances from such a small start not too many years ago on Newmarket's Main St.

They both recall many times being called for breakfast to find the dining-room full of patients and so ate in the kitchen.

EQUIP PARKS FOR CHILDREN'S PLAYGROUNDS

Aurora—The development of playground facilities for Aurora's children is steadily forging ahead. Best equipped to date is the Tyler St. playground this year located on the property of Ernest Phripp. Complete with swings, teeters, a slide and a sand box, it also provides facilities for volleyball and softball.

Other playgrounds under development are situated at Mosley and McMahon parks where similar equipment is to be installed as soon as possible. Under construction at present are two ball diamonds. One will be on the Hart sports field and the other in the Lepper St. area.

In charge of Aurora's summer recreation is J. Aubrey Holmes, recreation director. At present, he is organizing a town softball league as well as an inter-playground league in softball and volleyball. The present summer sports program, under the direction of the Recreation Commission, is suffering from a lack of voluntary supervision. Once this situation is remedied it is expected that organized recreation will surge ahead.

TO START WORK ON WALKS IN ARMITAGE HTS.

Newmarket—Council accepted the tender of Roy W. Keffer, Newmarket contractor, for laying sidewalks in the Armitage Heights subdivision on Monday night. Work will be started in a week, the job taking an estimated three weeks to complete. Contract cost is $4,899, at a charge of $1.82 per lineal foot.

Mr. Keffer's tender was one of three submitted to the engineer, Denne Bosworth.

Sidewalks will be placed on both sides of Andrew St., east side of Denne St., south side of Rogers Road, and west side of Cawthra Blvd. The roads through the subdivision have been gravelled and sod will be laid as soon as the sidewalks are completed.

To Call For Tenders For Aurora Ice Plant, Start on Acceptance

Aurora — It was announced Tuesday that tenders for the proposed construction work at the Aurora Memorial Arena will be called for next week and that the work will begin as soon as a tender is accepted. The artificial ice committee is hard at work on the final draft of the plans.

Following visits to various artificial ice arenas throughout the area, they are attempting to embody the good points seen while eliminating all bad points, and at the same time to keep within their budget. To them also, falls the job of planning every detail of the proposed new construction on the west end of the arena.

While work will begin as soon as the plans are ready and a tender accepted, the plans are to be submitted to council for their approval at the next meeting of council on August 8.

HORTICULTURAL GRANT

Newmarket—The annual grant to the Newmarket Horticultural Society of $100 was passed by council on Monday night.

WON'T GIVE UP FIGHT

Vale Seeks To End Pension Loss

Newmarket — Mayor Joseph Vale has begun a fight to the finish to end the practice of withholding old age pension cheques of indigent patients. He outlined the situation to council on Monday night and was given the members' unanimous support in his campaign.

The situation Mayor Vale seeks to end is apparently one which has developed over the years without, as near as he can ascertain, legal authority. When an old age pensioner goes into hospital as an indigent, his cheque is paid to a public trustee who sends it on to the pensioner if he stays in the hospital is 14 days or less. If the pensioner is in hospital 15 days or more, he receives only $9 of his cheque, the rest being paid to the county against his hospital bill.

It's A Small World . . .

Newmarket—Mayor Joseph Vale was somewhat bemused as he walked up Main St. towards the council chambers Monday night. He had been talking to a New Canadian couple, the woman originally from the Black Sea region of Russia, and the husband from Poland.

As he tells their story, the two were sent to a farm for forced labor by the Germans during the war. They met on the farm and married at the earliest opportunity.

Now they are in Newmarket hoping to make a new life for themselves.

"It is a small world," mused the mayor. "People from the far corners of the earth, brought together under the terrible circumstances of war, and now starting life anew. It is a long way from the shores of the Black Sea to Newmarket—and what experiences they must have shared before they reached this haven."

Boy Hit By Car At Prospect, Srigley

Newmarket—Warren Townsley, 12, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Townsley, Prospect St., suffered scalp lacerations and concussion, bruises and a possible back injury on Saturday when he was struck by a car on Prospect at the corner of Srigley St.

Ed. Woolven, who was also involved in the accident, suffered bruises. The driver of the car was Wm. Taylor, Keswick. Charges of careless driving, and having defective brakes have been laid against him by Newmarket police.

According to Chief Constable Byron Burbridge, the town works department was working in the manhole at the corner of Srigley and Prospect. Mr. Woolven was operating a winch on the north side of the manhole, and the boy was seated on the manhole cover to the south. The works department truck was parked on the west side of Prospect, north of the manhole, and Garnet Fairbairn's ice truck was parked in front of it.

Police say that Taylor swung wide to avoid the trucks and went over the manhole, hitting Woolven and the boy. Dr. J. G. Cock was called and the boy rushed to York County hospital. Police said the "men at work" sign was on the road.

Plan Concert, Songs At Mosley St. Park

Aurora — It is expected that band concerts and sing-songs will start immediately in Mosley Park under the sponsorship of the Aurora Recreation Commission. The programs have been arranged through the co-operation of the Aurora Lions club and the Aurora Boys' Band.

The commission also announces that handicraft classes have been arranged for the early fall. A skilled instructor will conduct the classes which will be held several times each week. Continuing as usual are the commission's Saturday evening dances in the high school auditorium which have become increasingly popular.

Fractures Right Leg In Sewer Cave-In

Aurora—Clelland Cobb of Toronto suffered a fractured right leg when a cave-in occurred at a sewer project in Aurora Tuesday noon. The accident occurred on the new housing project site on Wells St. south where sewers are being installed. Cobb was apparently working in the excavation at the time of the cave-in. Treated by Dr. Crawford Rose of Aurora, he was rushed to York County hospital at Newmarket.

SENIOR LADIES MEET

Newmarket — A meeting of Senior Ladies Aid and Missionary Group of Christian Baptist church will be held on Thursday, July 28, at 2.30. Picnic lunch.

Call For Volunteers For Scout Mess Hall

Newmarket—A call for volunteers to assist in the construction of a mess-hall and kitchen at the Boy Scout camp at Cedar Valley was issued this week by the Scouts through Percy Hutchinson. The building, 24' x 75', is being erected on the new scout campsite.

Work is progressing on the building with as many as seven carloads of helpers going out two or more nights a week to lend a hand, but with summer holidays, the volunteers have been dropping away and more help is needed. Any father wishing to assist should contact Mr. Hutchinson, the tobaccoist. All that is required is willingness, a hammer and saw.

Tenders by August 10 For New School

Newmarket—Tenders have been called for the new public school, Prince Charles public school, on Srigley St. The architects are Murray Brown and Elton. Tenders must be received by August 10.

With key members of the public school board out of town, exact information is not available as to when it is expected the school will be completed but it is known that work will be started as soon as possible.

The need for the school became evident when last year, a count of the potential school population showed that the present schools would be unable to accommodate the potential number of pupils. A six-room school, it embodies all the latest in modern school design.

Lions, Wives Attend New York Convention

Newmarket — Mr. and Mrs. Frank Courtney, Mr. and Mrs. Art Evans and Mr. and Mrs. Chester Best are attending the Lions International convention at New York this week. Mr. Evans is president of the club this year, Mr. Best, past president, Mr. Courtney is treasurer.

PERMIT DEBENTURES

Newmarket—After a hearing on Wednesday, the Municipal Board granted permission to Newmarket to issue debentures for $20,000 for construction, repair and replacement of sidewalks.

450 SIT DOWN TO ST. JOHN'S SUPPER

Newmarket—An estimated 450 sat down to supper at the annual St. John's garden party last night. The party was held on the grounds of the rectory. Proceeds are used for parish expenses.

Highlight of the evening was the draw, made by Barbara McHale. Winners were: Mrs. Metcalfe, Hamilton, mantle radio; Ed. Rosar, Keswick, pressure cooker; Gordon Tunney, Newmarket, set of dinnerware; Marie McGovern, Toronto, electric kettle; A. G. Lee, Newmarket, iron; Rita Byers, Toronto, 100 lbs. of sugar; Mrs. G. Evans, Gormley, hamper of groceries; Pat Hopper, Newmarket, money doll.

The weather was pleasant and a large crowd attended the party, including many former parishioners who renewed old acquaintances with their friends and neighbors. Rev. Dr. W. D. Muckle, former parish priest here, was warmly welcomed. Dr. Muckle left Newmarket some four years ago to take the pastorate of Our Lady of Lourdes in Toronto.

Other visiting clergy included Rev. Mons. Ingoldby, Toronto, Rev. Father O'Meara, New York; Rev. Father Schwartz, Breckon; Rev. Father McGinn, Richmond Hill; Rev. Father Bolan, Bradford.

The Newmarket Citizens Band, conducted by William Greig, and resplendent in their red uniforms, provided music throughout the evening.

Discuss Plans For Rink Changes When Ice Plant In

Newmarket — Chairman Fred S. Thompson of the ways and means committee indicates plans for artificial ice in the Newmarket "Memorial" Arena have been going forward steadily. The committee is putting renewed vigour into its campaign. Over the course of the next three weeks they will be contacting small groups of local businessmen to sit in with them to discuss the artificial ice program and proposed renovation at the arena. It is hoped in this manner to keep the campaign going forward and obtain the necessary funds to approach the town council with concrete suggestions.

Recently members of the Committee headed by the chairman made the trip to Barrie to look over the set-up in that center. They came away with several ideas that should assist in future planning.

Proposed changes at the rink as they appear at the moment call for extension of present building out to the street line on Cedar St. The arena will then have approximately an over all size of 100 feet wide by 235 feet deep. Entry will be gained at street level from Cedar St. Ticket windows will be on either side of main entrance. The fans will then step into a spacious lobby containing snack and coffee bar.

At the front to the north will be the room containing ice and heating equipment. On the north side of the entrance and across the lobby will be ladies' room and wash room. To the south of entrance way will be men's dressing room for skaters, wash rooms, equipment room. Further to the south hockey rooms for home and visiting teams complete with showers.

The seating plan calls for greater capacity. Above the dressing rooms seating will run from north west corner extending along the south side and east end of the rink. Along the north side now designated as standing room two rows of reserve seats will be installed and to the rear of this, standing room. Penalty box will be moved from the north side to the south side. Players' benches will remain in approximately same location as at present.

The proposed plan should give Newmarket a first class modern arena. The committee has given serious consideration to a number of tenders for the artificial ice equipment and believe they are now in a position to give a concrete cost for the installation. They are still short of their financial objective, however. Present donations now total close to the $10,000 mark. Once their objective is reached, saws and hammers, masons and pipe-fitters will tell the story of their progress.

LIONS CLUB CARNIVAL AUG. 17-18

Newmarket—Members of the Lions club under the chairmanship of Pete Bastedo are making preparations for their annual carnival and dance Wednesday and Thursday, August 17-18, at the Lions Park and on Main St. The annual two-day event has become the biggest summer attraction in Newmarket, and this year, in addition to the regular features, plans are underway to add new specialties to the program.

The event is the Lions club's chief means of raising money for its welfare activities which include boys' and girls' club work, provision of medical care, provision of glasses, tonsil operation, and general service club work on all levels.

The free summer playground program at Lions club park, now in its fourth year, is a Lions club project.

One of the new features of carnival night is a mutt show, and in along with the regular entertainment is the tent show, popular feature of other years. The traditional bingo and other games will run as usual.

Norm. Burling and his Kingsmen will provide the music for the street dance on Main St.

Ted Baillie To Open Store In Two Weeks

Newmarket—Ted Baillie, owner and operator of Baillie Wholesale, will open a general merchandise store on Eagle St. at the site of his home at the corner of Eagle and Lorne. Mr. Baillie expects his store to be ready for business within two weeks.

Recently, permission was granted by the town council to operate a store in that area which is nominally a residential section.

Street Lights For V.L.A. As Material Available

Newmarket — The property owners in the V.L.A. sub-division were advised Monday night, in answer to an enquiry, that the street lighting installation in that area would continue as soon as material became available. An enquiry about sidewalks was referred to the roads and bridges committee.

The property owners also asked permission to hold a corn-roast to raise funds for playground equipment, permission for which was granted by council.

More than 500 costumes, all being made under the supervision of Sister Marie Anthony of Denver, Colorado, will be used in the "Salute To Canada" pageant, being held at the Martyrs' Shrine, near Midland, Ontario, from July 27 to 31. The pageant, designed to honor the memory of missionaries massacred by the Iroquois Indians 300 years ago, will be presented on four stages on a steep hillside.

KESWICK

There was a good attendance at Keswick United church last Sunday morning when an old friend of the pastor, the Rev. George D. Campbell of Colborne took the service. His text "Caution, God at Work".

Mr. Frank Gowan, Westdale United church, Hamilton, sang two solos, "Nearer My God to Thee," and "My Task" and the choir, contribution was exceptionally fine. The rich crimson carpet newly laid in the chancel blends in beautifully with the other newly added items of the church which has been recently decorated in shades of pastel green. Words of appreciation were expressed to Mrs. Harold Pollard for her recent contribution to the church through proceeds from her recent musical recital.

Sunday school and the Four Square Club gather at 10 a.m. next Sunday morning. All visiting boys and girls and young people will be welcomed. Church service is at 11 a.m.

Miss Gladys Nichols of Toronto is spending two weeks holidays with her friend, Mrs. Jack Cameron at "La Claire," Keswick Beach.

Miss Ruth and Master Bobbie Mahoney of Queensville visited Miss B. Terry last Wednesday for the day.

Mr. and Mrs. Byron King and Mr. and Mrs. Ray Hodgson of Toronto visited their parents here over the weekend.

Mr. and Mrs. Eyril Morton of Hamilton are visiting Mr. and Mrs. Harley Morton for a few days and calling on old friends here. Eyril's hobby is racing pigeons. He was in charge of "carrier pigeons" in England during the war.

The outer part of North Gwillimbury's new memorial recreation centre is now complete and workmen are busy at the inside.

Miss Eva Gilroy visited in Queensville on Monday at the Smith home.

Master Wayne King is spending the week at the home of his uncle, Mr. Isaac King, in Bondhead.

Sorry to hear of the illness of Mr. Forz Taylor. His many friends here wish him a speedy recovery.

Keswick Project Nears Completion

Keswick - The memorial centre main building is nearing completion and everybody who has helped in financing this project can be justly proud of it. Tuesday evening of this week about 30 men and boys shovelled earth for two hours and they also have a great feeling of part ownership in this youth centre.

The new post office is fast taking form and everybody can take heart that soon we will not need to feel ashamed of our Post Office building.

Optimism is thriving as never before in our village and the surrounding country. The new Optimist club has already shown good results. Dick Metcalf says it's the greatest move yet for Keswick.

The Four Square club turned out nearly in full strength to shovel earth and now are busy raising money by selling a beautiful Simmons lawn couch. Get your number from the boys and help build our memorial.

The ball game last Saturday evening between Simmons Seniors of Toronto and Keswick in which the juniors played first three innings, and the next four innings a mixed team of seniors and juniors, resulted in a tie score, but the last four innings showed that our mixed team was superior to one of Toronto's best teams.

Everybody will want to see Russ Johnson of Toronto, who is rated as one of Canada's best softball pitchers, in action Saturday night, July 30, at school grounds, 7 p.m. and of course take home your lawn couch.

In conjunction with the establishment of the recreational centre, an Optimist Club was formed and the first officers were elected at a dinner meeting held on the grounds of the United church. They are: pres., Clayton Purdy; vice-presidents, Percy Mahoney and Clark Martin; sec., Jimmie Johnson; treas., Harley Morton; sergeant-at-arms, Ernie Taylor. Mr. Purdy, with the assistance of the international extension counsellor Joe Laird, was responsible for the organization. The chartering of the club will take place on July 27 with an expected attendance of 30 members of other district clubs.

Many Prominent Men Preached At Boyer's Crossing Church

Thanks to Mr. M. A. Bradshaw, we have received some interesting background material on the Boyer's Crossing church which was moved last week to its new site at Jersey. Mr. Bradshaw's notes follow:

In 1907, John Firstbrook, Robert Kilgour, James Strachan and Thomas Bradshaw, all of Toronto, together with Lyman G. Jackson, editor of the Newmarket Era, organized as trustees a church at Boyer's Crossing to serve the summer visitors in the districts of Orchard Beach, Roche's Point, Hamilton's Crossing and Eastbourne, with the thought that services would be held each Sunday, morning and evening, during the months of July and August. A church building was obtained in the Queensville district and was moved up to Boyer's Crossing. Some ten years later, the church building, not being large enough for the numbers attending, was doubled in capacity.

Services were conducted during the months of July and August from 1907 to 1948. In the latter years, a morning service only was held.

The church was conducted on non-denominational lines and ministers of all Protestant denominations were invited from time to time to participate in the services. Such outstanding ministers as Canon O'Meara of Wycliffe College; John MacNeill, principal of McMaster University; Rev. Principal Thomas Eakin of Knox College; the Very Rev. George C. Pidgeon, First Moderator of The United Church, were some of the men who took part of the services during the earlier years. The complete list of ministers conducting services during the months of July and August for 1948 is:

Rev. Edward Morley, M.A., rector, St. Paul's Runnymede church, Toronto; Rev. Gordon Dorn, M.A., B.D., minister, Bathurst St. United church, Toronto; Rev. H. L. Puxley, M.A., rector, Roche's Point Anglican church; Rev. W. H. Hudspeth,

M.A., M.B.E., secretary, British and Foreign Bible Society, Toronto; Rev. Eric L. Cowall, B.A., B.D., minister, First Presbyterian Church, New Jersey, U.S.A.; Rev. J. Bruce Hunter, B.A., B.D., D.D., LL.D., minister, Westminster Central United church, Toronto; Rev. F. G. Vesey, B.D., formerly of Toronto Bible College; President Walter T. Brown, M.A., Ph.D., LL.D., of Victoria University, Toronto; Rev. Moir A. J. Waters, B.A., minister, Lawrence Park Community Church, Toronto.

The church served this district throughout the entire life of the Metropolitan Railway which operated from Toronto to Sutton. With the increase in automobile travel and the availability of attending services in the local churches, the remaining trustees gave consideration to discontinuing services at this point in the fall of 1948.

In the spring of 1949, it came to the trustees' attention that the rector of Roche's Point Anglican Church was interested in establishing a new charge at Jersey, which would have services all the year round, and they offered the building to the new congregation, who accepted the offer with enthusiasm. The remaining trustees felt that in discontinuing the services in the church, they would be carrying out the wishes of the original trustees in donating the building to a Protestant church which would carry on regular work in a new district.

LATE ANDY CLARKE

TO PUBLISH LIFE STORY OF 'ANDY' CLARKE

A book which a large number of our readers will no doubt want to buy is being prepared, and will be ready by fall. It is the story of the life of "Andy" Clarke, the Mayor of Little Places, for eight years broadcaster of "Neighborhood News."

The book is being published by his wife, Vi Clarke, with Gillis Purcell of the Canadian Press and Dan McArthur of the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation doing the main editing. The material for the book is being sifted from a million words of broadcasting, "Neighborhood News."

The introduction will be written by "Greg" Clark (no relation), well-known writer of humorous fiction. Dr. Pierce of the Ryerson Press will give the final o.k. to the material.

Andy Clarke, who died last May, had a big following not only in Ontario and Quebec but in the United States as well and many of these radio friends will be anxious to have a copy of the book giving highlights of Andy's interesting life, and particularly those years he devoted to covering "the unusual happenings of those important parts of Ontario and Quebec which lie outside the cities."

Car, Truck Collide 1 Man In Hospital

Holland Landing — A head-on collision between a car and a truck just south of the Holland Landing Hill sent one man to hospital at Newmarket late Saturday afternoon.

According to hospital authorities Samuel Edwin McKee, 37, of 25 St. Johns Road, Toronto, is in satisfactory condition. The driver of the car, he suffered severe internal chest injuries and a badly smashed right leg. Treated for minor facial lacerations was Ann Malko, 19, whose father, Nicholas Malko, 57, of Holland Marsh, the driver of the truck, was uninjured.

The crash occurred when, according to Malko, he "pulled out to go around a car stopped on the highway." McKee was unable to avoid the truck. He was alone in the car, which he had borrowed from Joseph Stebnicki of Dundas Street, Toronto, and was returning to Toronto. He had taken his wife to Alcona Beach on Lake Simcoe earlier in the day.

The impact, which threw both the car and the truck sideways across the highway, strewn vegetable crates carried in the truck on top of the car and over the highway. Its engine smashed to within inches of the front seat, the car was badly damaged.

UNKNOWN VISITOR

Kettleby — Mrs. John Davis will soon have a guest from New Brighton, Penn., U.S.A., whom she has never met. The visitor is Miss Margaret Trybone who has been Mrs. Davis' pen pal for the past ten years. They will meet for the first time at Aurora station.

Stove Explodes Two In Hospital

Jackson's Point — A sudden explosion late Friday afternoon sent four people to hospital, two with severe burns. It occurred in the summer cottage of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Slattery at Mossington Park near Jackson's Point where they had been spending their vacation. Taken to Toronto General Hospital were E. A. Carl of Long Branch and Mrs. Alfred Slattery.

According to Mr. Slattery, he and his wife and Mr. and Mrs. Carl had returned to their cottage for tea. While grouped around the table, the nearby gas burner suddenly exploded. The force of the explosion knocked Mr. Carl through a nearby window and, according to neighbors, sent pieces of toast flying out the window like a tossed discus. Neighbors immediately attempted to render first aid and extinguish the flames. Rushed to Sutton Private hospital, Mr. Carl and Mrs. Slattery were later removed to Toronto with third degree burns.

According to Constable William R. Hill, the explosion did not set fire to the newly-completed cottage. Shingles were blown off and the peak of the roof forced upwards, but otherwise there was little damage. No trace was found of the stove.

Mossington Park residents, under proprietor Ellis Pringle, have organized a fund to help pay the hospital and ambulance expenses. The two Slattery children, Tom, 9, and Paul, 8, and the two Carl children, Bonny, 4, and Dennis, 18 months, were playing outside at the time of the blast and escaped injury. They were cared for by neighbors.

Thrown from Motorcycle Two Escape with Lives

Keswick — Thrown from a motorcycle and knocked unconscious when it hit a bump and went out of control at 90 miles an hour near Keswick Friday, two Toronto boys luckily escaped with their lives.

Taken to St. Joseph's hospital, Toronto, with undetermined head and leg injuries was Ernest Brown, 20, of Dovercourt Road, Toronto, the driver of the bike. Thrown high in the air, and barely missing two trees, Peter Gray, 19, of Howland Avenue, Toronto, escaped with an ankle injury and body cuts.

aluminum house

ALUMINUM COMPANY OF CANADA, LTD.

Producers and Processors of Aluminum for Canadian Industry and World Markets
MONTREAL - QUEBEC - TORONTO - VANCOUVER - WINNIPEG

MANY PEOPLE, perhaps you yourself, already live in houses which are as much "aluminum" as others are "brick" or "stucco". Just look at the amount of aluminum which already is going into Canadian buildings:

Roofing and Siding — Last year alone about 100 Canadian fabricators shaped thousands of tons of aluminum for use as roofs and exterior walls.

Windows — Today a score of Canadian companies are making aluminum windows and sash which have unique advantages: they never warp, swell, shrink or crack, and never need painting.

Insulation — Aluminum has outstanding insulating properties. Already numerous Canadian companies adapt it to keep homes warm in winter, cool in summer.

Gutters, Flashing, Trim, Architectural Hardware — Because aluminum is attractive and lasts a lifetime, dozens of Canadian manufacturers are now kept busy making it into all sorts of forms for use outside and inside the house.

Why Aluminum?

Aluminum is becoming more and more popular for use in home building because...

- ...it does not rust... is practically indestructible. Therefore maintenance costs stay low.
- ...it is light and easy to handle, is very strong, needs only correspondingly light supports.
- ...it has an attractive natural finish, and can be painted if desired.
- ...like other building materials, aluminum can be used in houses of any design.

Ask your architect or contractor about aluminum for building. He knows the story of Alcan's continuing research into its uses. So he can tell you about its overall advantages and how you can profit from them when building or remodeling.

Pages from the Editor's Notebook

A lot of gunpowder was set off on May 24 to celebrate the birthday of a queen who has been dead for almost a half century, and a month and a half later, the pipes tooted and the drums rolled as the Orangemen remembered the Battle of Boyne. There was nothing objectionable about these celebrations although time has dimmed their significance, and in England, the queen's birthday is no longer observed as a public holiday.

Between the two dates was Canada's birthday on July 1, a day that in any other nation would be observed by national rejoicing. Most Canadians remarked on the date because it gave them a long weekend. The Americans celebrated Independence Day, their birthday, on July 4 and the date has more publicity in Canada than Canada's own birthday.

Why Canadians should be so reluctant to develop their own national festivals and celebrations is difficult to understand. Perhaps it is the persistence of the old colonial complex which deprecates all that is Canadian in favor of custom inherited from over the seas. Perhaps it is an outcropping of Canadian conservatism which rejects the ballyhoo of the embulliment American.

It is not only in the matter of celebrations symbolic of a national pride in tradition that Canada is so hesitant. Last winter, the radio commentator, John Fisher, stirred up quite a tempest with his caustic remarks on the lack of Canadian historical literature. And there are numerous other occasions where the Canadian is silent on things Canadian, preferring the colorless import.

But it is the celebrations of anniversaries which engages us now, a subject made timely by the announcement of the tercentenary observance of the martyrdom of the six Jesuit priests by the Iroquois Indians when the nation of Huronia on the shores of Georgian Bay was destroyed. The anniversary observation will take the form of a huge musical spectacle extending over four nights at the end of this month. Three stages are to be constructed at Martyrs' Shrine near Midland for the presentation of the spectacle which, in addition to a cast of 500 Midlandites cast as pioneers, Indians, missionaries, soldiers and sailors, includes a symphonic orchestra, ballet group, choral group and several Canadian artists.

The anniversary is a purely Canadian one, dating from our earliest history. The celebration is being staged by Canadians. It appears to be one of the most colorful spectacles ever presented—and because of that, we don't doubt for a minute that there will be a good many Canadians who will deliberately ignore it. Some because of its religious connotations; others because they find the fare too rich for their austere attitude towards such matters.

Still others will be cold to the celebration because 300 years is, after all, not very long compared to the history of their ancestral soil. They are too conscious of the youth of their country to enjoy anything which stresses it. In East Gwillimbury, there are farms whose age is five generations, and they are old farms. In Newmarket, the lifetimes of two of its residents span nearly the entire life of the town. And this part of Ontario is comparatively old.

There, we think, is the fault. We are too young as a nation and we are peopled with the descendants of those who came from lands far older. So we are self-conscious about it in the fellowship of other nations and with ourselves. We seek to add years instead of making the most of what so few have, the energy of youth, and the distance of our horizons.

From the Files of 25 and 50 Years Ago

Pickering College girls and boys of more than 40 years ago will hold a reunion and picnic, Saturday, July 19, according to the files of 25 years ago, at the old college site near Pickering, Ont., now the residence of Mr. E. L. Ruddy, who has offered the use of his premises. Mr. Fred Hatch, Whitby, and Mr. H. Holtby Myers, formerly of Bracebridge, now of Los Angeles, class of 1881, are promoting the function.

Miss Grendell, Owen Sound, and Mrs. Kane, Ottawa, formerly of the Newmarket high school staff, were guests of Miss Carrie Dennis over the weekend.

Mr. J. E. Blizard has purchased a truck and has gone into the carting business for himself.

Mr. and Mrs. Bert Wiley and daughter and Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Wiley, Toronto, spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Bond, Newmarket.

Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Brooks and Miss Alice Brooks attended the Brooks' picnic at the home of Mr. Everton Quibell, Mount Albert, last Saturday. About 57 members of the family attended.

Some of the ladies of the Rochester branch of the Office Specially visited the head office here on Tuesday and were entertained at lunch at Fleischman's restaurant by the office girls.

Newmarket ball team went to Willowdale on Tuesday evening and won by a score of 7-4.

Messrs. Will and Colborne Ames and Douglas Marshall left for Muskoka on Tuesday, having accepted positions at Art Evans' summer hotel for the season.

Mr. and Mrs. Levi Rogers of Manitoba are visiting Mr. Rogers' mother, Mrs. S. A. Rogers, for a couple of weeks.

The Mount Albert Presbyterian garden party held last Wednesday at the home of the Case brothers was a decided success. The Fox Fun Co.'s concert was much enjoyed by all. The proceeds amounted to $448.

The grade of the Metropolitan from Yonge St. to Newmarket was finished on Tuesday and on Wednesday the work of laying the ties and rails was resumed, according to the files of 50 years ago. It is expected that the rails will be laid to Newmarket by Saturday night and the first car will reach here by the end of next week.

Mr. Danford Roche is to open another branch store in Barrie and Herb Isard, a former clerk here, is to be promoted to manager.

Ed. Doyle, Walt Cain and B. Manning played lacrosse with Barrie team against Orillia at Orillia on Tuesday. The score was 5-0 for Barrie.

The new cottages at Gravenhurst sanatorium will be formally opened on Saturday. Hon. E. J. Davis will be present to represent the Ontario government at the opening ceremonies.

A good crowd of people in town Saturday and the market was lively. Prices had an upward tendency, generally. Butter sold at 14 cents and eggs 13 cents. Cherries went up to 30 cents a pail, red raspberries were 5 cents a lb. and black ones 7 cents a lb. Green peas, shelled, sold at 10 cents a qt., in the pods, 20 cents a pk. New potatoes were 25 cents a pk.

New Municipal Building

It is not yet in the form of an official recommendation, and not likely to be while the town is occupied with the improvement of roads and sidewalks and the rest of the 22 projects now underway, but the chairman of the property committee, Councillor Tom Birrell, as spokesman for a special committee of Reeve Arthur D. Evans and Councillor R. C. Morrison, and advised by Engineer Denne Bosworth, sees in the renovation and alteration of the town hall an answer to the need for a central municipal building.

At present, Newmarket is without adequate quarters for police and firemen, for the clerk's office, for court and council room, municipal auditorium, nurse's office, and works department. The quarters now housing these municipal departments suffer from overcrowding or age. The variety of buildings which house them add heavily to the cost of upkeep. Heating is a major expense. Their general inconvenience is most unsatisfactory.

Mr. Birrell's committee believes that if the town hall were enlarged by an extension to the south, and thoroughly renovated inside and out, it could be made to house all municipal functions without crowding and in surroundings compatible to their importance. The town hall has the advantage of parking space and access from two streets. It is a most solid structure and would lend itself to the necessary improvements and extension.

Such a move would be cheaper than the construction of a new building and might easily be financed by the sale of town property now housing the clerk's office. It would be a project which could be put underway at short notice at by far the most suitable site. Mr. Birrell's idea appears to be a practical answer to the need of a municipal building. It is to be hoped that he brings it before council at an early date so that it can be fully explored, even if action is delayed at the present time by the press of other work.

Chance for Senate Reform

Canadian voters have expressed great hopes for good government under Prime Minister Louis St. Laurent by the unanimity with which they returned him to office. With this convincing support behind him, he is in a unique position to carry out the periodic, non-partisan reforms which passage of time requires. One such reform concerns the Upper House of Parliament where after 14 years of Liberal administration, the Senate has become a one-party chamber with 74 Liberals to 15 opposition members.

The usefulness of the Senate has been questioned for several years. It has become a place of honored retirement for those to whom the party in power is indebted, instead of being maintained as an active branch of the government. There has been little if any constructive work or leadership produced there in recent years. Criticism of the Senate has been so acute that its abolition was an election plank.

In the last election many experienced and able parliamentarians from the opposition ranks were unseated. Among them is excellent material from which to fill some of the 13 existing Senate vacancies. Such magnanimity is not traditional and the Prime Minister has no obligation to appoint opposition party followers. It would nevertheless be much to his credit to infuse life and leadership into a body that has fallen to a dangerously low ebb by making such appointments.

Filtered Water

The warning that drinking water in the north end might be polluted, broadcast through the streets last Wednesday, was a sensible and quick thinking action although it later turned out to be a false alarm. Had the water been polluted, and the warning delayed until certain of that fact, it might have led to a good deal of senseless tragedy. The worry the warning caused is small price to pay to be sure of safe-keeping.

There were good reasons to believe that the water was polluted. Water drawn from taps in the north end, even as late as Friday morning, was foul smelling and dirty. This condition was caused by the stirring up of the sediment which settles in the mains and is sometimes evident when mains are flushed or otherwise disturbed. It has been evident along Andrew St. recently, according to report.

There is no real reason why this condition should be permitted when, according to our information, the installation of a filter system would end it. The sediment is not harmful but it is certainly most distasteful. Early action by the council to end this condition would be most welcome to the citizens.

Where the Fight Lies

Mr. John Gilmour, a prominent forestry engineer, issued recently a statement which is darkly pessimistic, and hopeful at the same time. "In no region known to me has there ever been any recovery from such a low point in forestry as now obtains in Old Ontario," he says in a statement released by the Ontario Forestry Association. He adds, rather unnecessarily, that "it is absolutely essential that recovery be made."

But there is hope. "It is fortunate that the natural forest conditions are completely favorable to recovery," he says. "It is not a matter of fighting against nature to produce some sort of forest cover regardless of its commercial value. Old Ontario was one of the great forest regions of Canada, and money spent on forestry will pay excellent dividends," he says.

"Forestry is a long-term proposition. Especially is this true when we must start with bare ground, or badly damaged wood-lots. However, with good forest practice, some returns can be looked for even in one or two decades, and these will increase in later years. The private owner who has the courage and the patience will get a good return even if he pays all the costs himself from the start."

While it "is not a matter of fighting against nature," it is a very definite fight against human nature to get sound forest practice underway. No matter what action is taken by legislative bodies, the success of reforestation rests with the individual, and too frequently, the individual is governed by a "don't-give-a-damn" attitude which if unchecked will impoverish his grandsons.

Newspaper Awards

The Canadian Weekly Newspapers Association, and its provincial divisions, annually hold better newspaper contests in which the member newspapers are judged for the excellence of their front pages, their editorial pages, and their all-round worth. The results of the national contest are pending, but in the Ontario-Quebec division, the Newmarket Era and Express placed third in competition for the Legge Memorial Trophy for the best editorial page.

The editorial pages were judged on the quantity of editorials, quality, and features and make-up. The Fort Erie Times-Review, winner of the trophy, was awarded 12 of a possible 15 points in the first category, 13 of a possible 15 in the second, and 23 of a possible 30 in the third, for a total of 48 points of a possible 60. The Midland Free Press Herald placed second, and was awarded 11, 12 and 23 points respectively for a total of 46 points, and the Newmarket Era and Express 12, 12 and 22 points respectively for a total of 46 points. Although the Era and Express was tied with the Midland paper with 46 points, two points below the winner, it was placed third in the listing.

We extend our sincere congratulations to the editors of the Fort Erie Times-Review and the Midland Free Press Herald. Both papers are consistent prize-winners in the provincial and national fields. We also extend our congratulations to Editor Nolan of Stouffville Tribune on his winning again the Joseph T. Clarke Memorial Trophy for the best all-round newspaper published in towns or villages of 1,500 or less population.

Wheatland Day

The Wheatland Day on July 27 is the type of practical demonstration of farm implements and farm practices by which all farmers may profit. Leitchcroft Farm, where the Wheatland Day will be held, is itself something of an agricultural show-place.

Those present will have an opportunity to compare various types of farm implements in action as well as "to learn by seeing" the demonstration plots. The fact that farmers are expected from throughout the central counties indicates the worth such an event holds for them.

With the Barrie highway still little more than an ugly gash through good farm land, one questions the value of having undertaken the project at the time. The manpower, materials, and cost poured into the new route, if applied to existing routes like Yonge St., No. 27, and the fourth would have improved those highways to a point where they could easily handle the rush of traffic.

As it is, the new Barrie route is still not useable and the existing routes are jammed. No one, least of all the American tourist for whom the new highway was designed, has benefitted to date.

The Lindo Canadian Refrigeration Co. has been awarded the contract for the installation of artificial ice at Stouffville, according to a press report last week. According to the report, the entire job will be completed by October. Stouffville has formed a company to install the ice and shares are being sold with a welcome response.

Office Cat reports Catnips By Ginger

Friday, July 15.

Dear Boss:

I am leaving this note on your typewriting machine to let you know that I am through—for two weeks, that is. I took the $1.84 out of the till plus the arrowroot biscuits which are my usual two weeks' pay and am going on my vacation.

I know this is sort of sudden, boss, but I can't stand that office girl any longer. She has been driving me crazy biting her finger nails all the time and I just have to have a holiday.

I realize how difficult it will be to put out the paper with me away but try and get along for the next two issues. If the printers get out of hand, just drop me a line and I will attempt to avert any strikes by mail. I have a friend in the C.S.U. which will cast its weight anywhere and if anyone has any influence with those upstairs it's my old friend Harry of the C.S.U. Oh yes, and here's a tip. That young apprentice, Bill, what's his name, is a company man when it comes down to an issue. A browner, you know.

My sugar dumpling Isabella, the better half, has been at me and at me to go to her cousin's to spend the vacation but I put my foot down and told her that we would be going to the bush country or nowhere. Nothing like the bush country, I always say, where you really get down to real livin'. Just last week her cousin got put in jail for larceny or something.

I am taking the typewriting machine with me so you may hear from me from time by time by the Royal mail. I'm off. Hope you are the same, Ginger.

Bear's Shinbone Junction P.O. — Tuesday, July 19, Special— Say boss, this is just a little gem I composed as I sit here counting a field of daisies. You can use it if you want with no charge but don't edit it. We are on a lake here. Caught a pike with a flat nose yesterday. Hope you are the same.

"GINGER'S ALLERGY IN A COUNTRY BARNYARD"

Dedicated to the Boss

Here goes me
Off on a spree,
I'm on my vacation
At a northern location.

No rules of etiquette
And social custom,
Tell Emily Post
I'm going to bust 'em.

I'll eat my beans
From the end of a knife,
To heck with her
I'm enjoyin' life!

Pooh to bathtubs
And public utilities,
All we have is Outdoor facilities.

I'm gettin' lazy
I must confess
Hope you're the same
At the Era n' Express.

by "Back Concession" The Top Six Inches

For some reason the Toronto and York Roads Commission will not pave east and west roads. Those rate-payers who live on east and west roads may have to consider the suggestion of debenture for hard-surface roads.

The question comes, who supports and makes Canada? Is it the few tourists that come to our country in the summer, or the people who live and produce the wealth of Canada? We build highways at a large expense for the tourist trade and forget the people who live on the back concessions.

In every community there is idle money. People have money in the bank. There is no reason why the rate-payers along the roads to be paved could not buy township debentures. Any group that is tired of bad roads in the spring, and dust in the summer, could form a rate-payers' association.

Study the cost of maintaining a gravel road, the cost of a debenture and interest for hard-surface. Because the farmers have never had a rate-payers' association is no reason why one could not be formed. Some say that the farm forum could act. There are many in our county who are not interested in farming. Everyone does drive a car and would be interested in good roads.

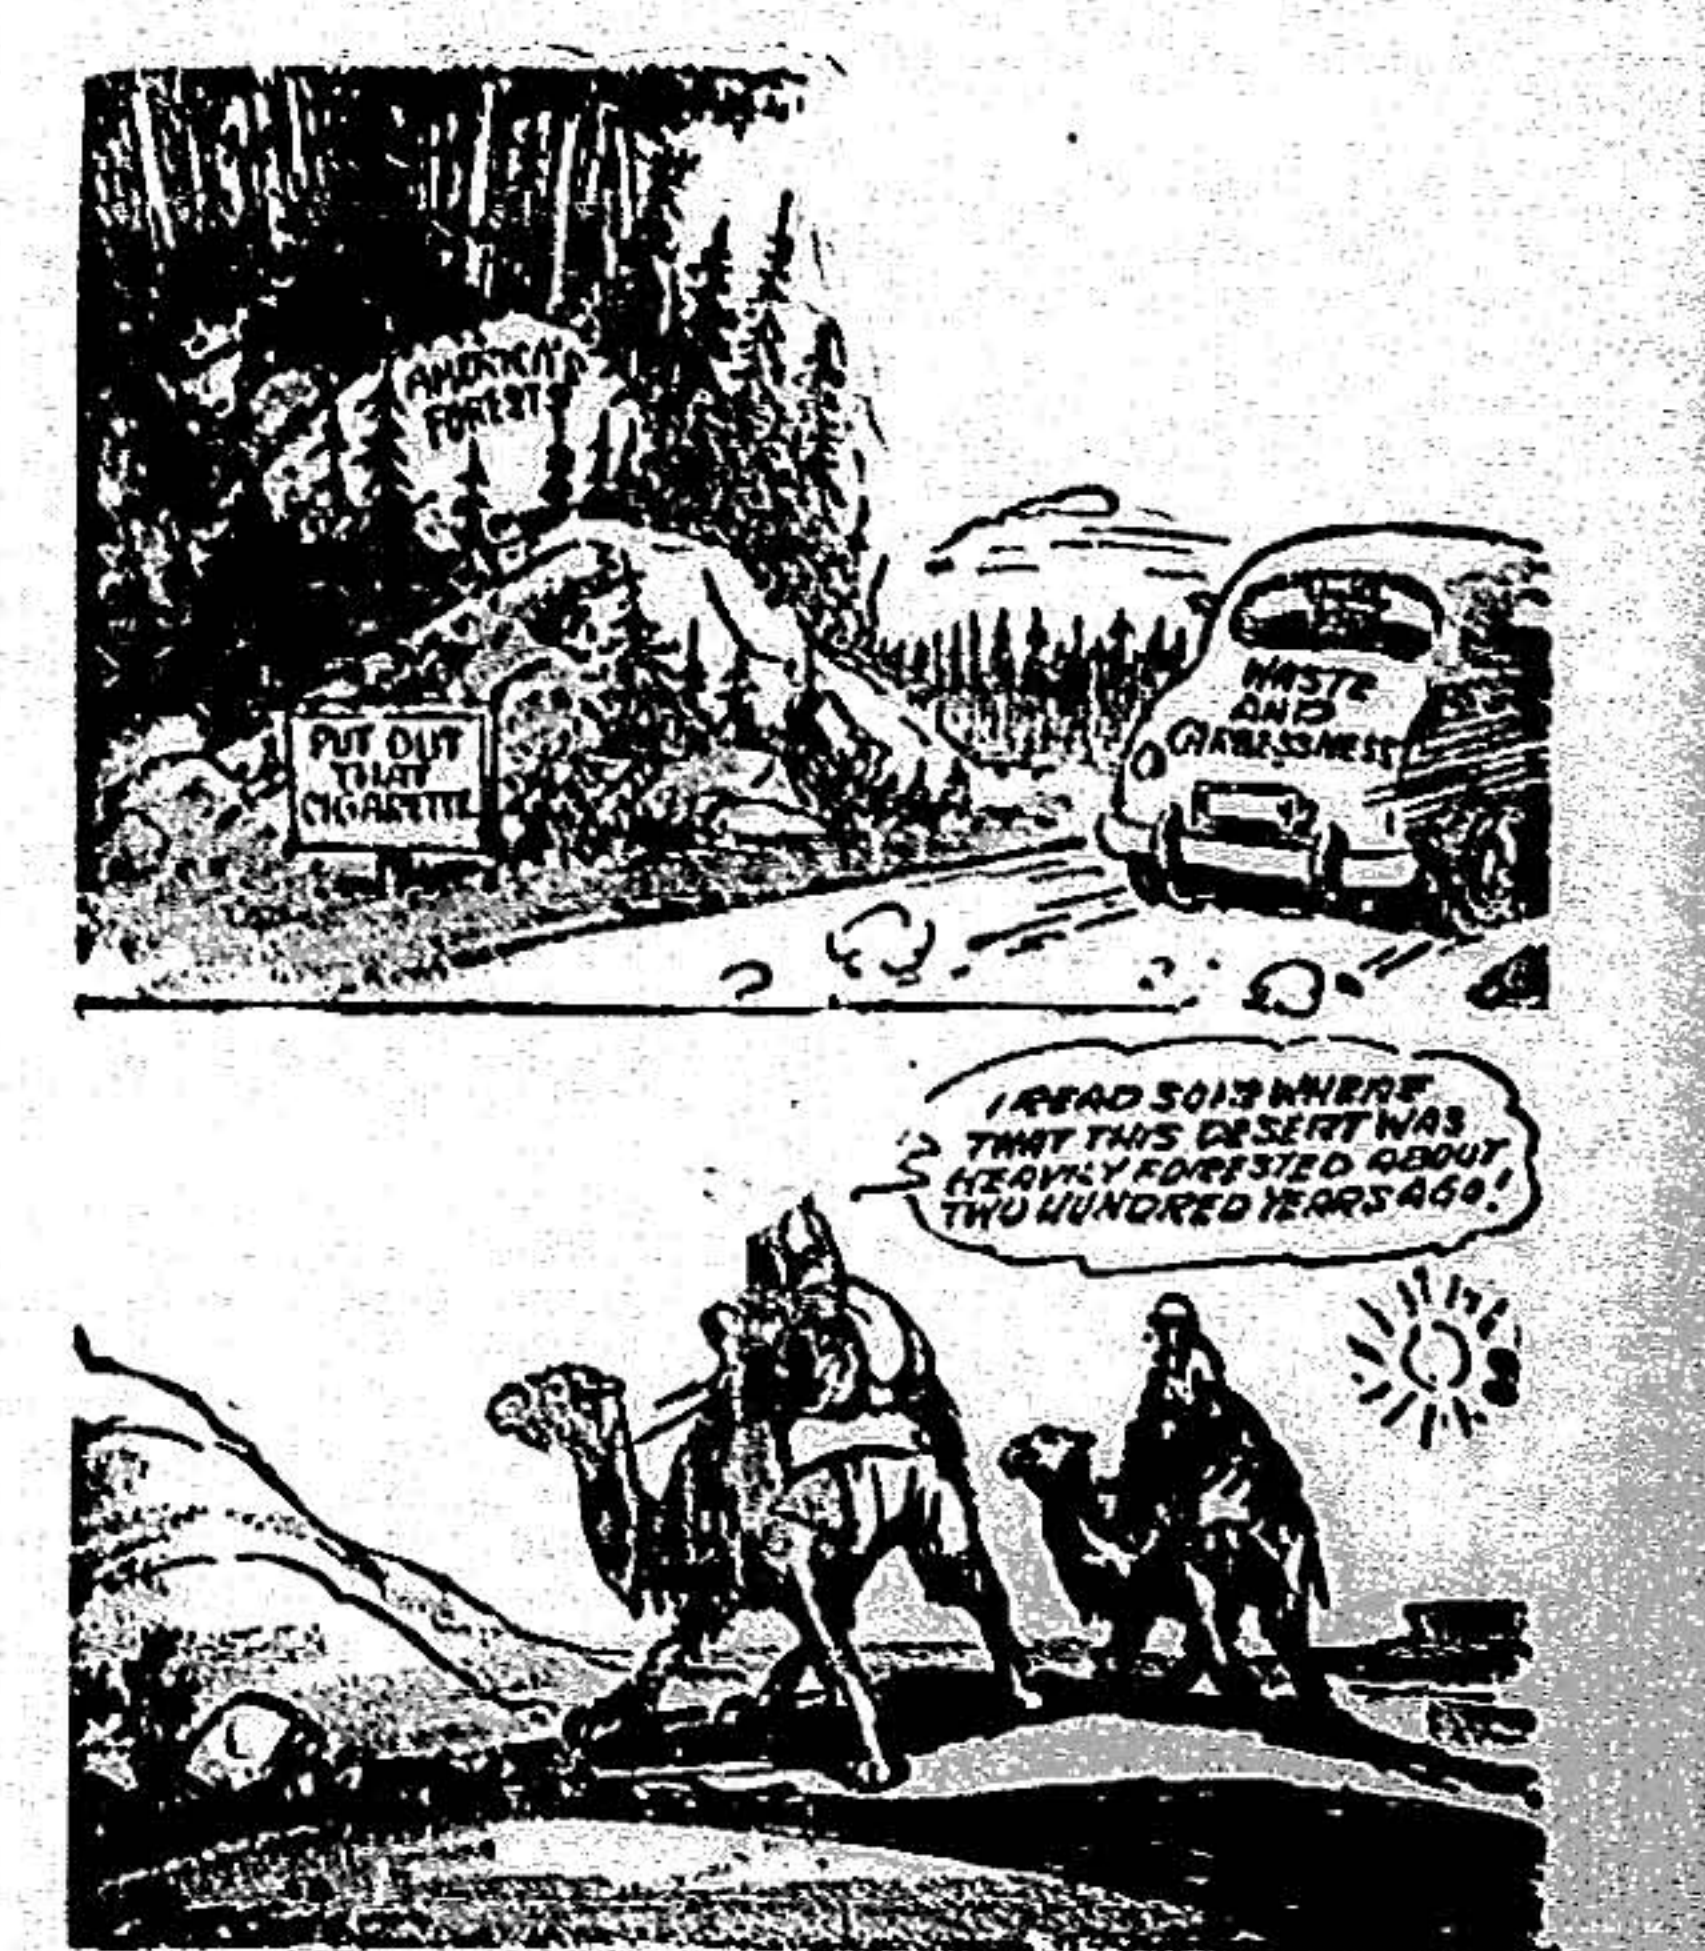

A rate-payers' association could assist the township council in deciding. Sometimes it would seem that our township council has trouble in making decisions. It does not seem right that we should elect our council and then forget them till next year.

Along main gravel roads the cars and trucks grind the gravel into dust. Our road grader comes along and loosens up the road. Our gravel blows over in our fields where we don't want dust. Hay and grain or at least the straw is not fit for stock to eat. Anyone having berries along the road cannot use them for dust. And because our township council has never had a debenture for roads we must go on having dust spoil our flowers, gardens and hay. It has been said that our way with gravel roads cost more than a debenture and interest.

One person's complaint does no good, but a group would get some action. We would like to see a group of farm people form a rate-payers' association and give their township council figures on a debenture plan for roads.

Why should the county health unit be side-stepped by the township council? All we have is our health and we should not consider costs in health. If a health unit would help our people to be well, why let people get sick before we try to help them. A well person is an asset, while a sick person becomes a liability. A sick person not only is out of production but he takes someone else out of production to care for him.

Hard-surface roads and health units are going to cost extra money, but when people are well they can work and earn money to pay extra taxes. When people are well and have work they are happy. We must begin to work together more and forget some of our individualism. We are our brother's keeper. Cheerio.

The state is the servant, not the master, of the people; the state is their guarantee against infringement on their rights, their agent in international and national issues; it is not the function of the state to assume the direction of those activities which rest on individual choice.

Grim Summer Harvest

IN DAYS OF YORE

says

Those old photos of Newmarket being printed in this paper from time to time, certainly must bring back old times to anyone born and brought up here. I have to admit that I can't quite recall very many, but they make me think of the old Newmarket I used to know as a girl. And "The Pond," as we familiarly called it in those days, was the centre of attraction!

How we loved it—summer and winter—and when the spring freshet was on word was passed 'round in school that "the dam is high," and we all would gather on the bridge to watch the torrent of water pour over. We used to lie down and measure how near the water was to the bridge on Timothy St. with our skipping ropes, while somebody sat on our feet so we did not fall in! Little girls always had skipping ropes, while the boys used to roll hoops. Yes and what a clanging they made too, for they'd go to the blacksmith shop and have him attach a "running handle" to their hoop so they could keep on running without having to keep the hoop going with a stick.

Marbles and Jacks
The boys used to play marbles—and what grubby hands they'd have to go into school. "Dear Teacher" must have wished for a good wash-room with plenty of soap and water. We girls played "Jacks" and "Cat's Cradle" with a piece of string—and looked for four-leafed clovers. For some reason we always called the cloak-room by the old name of "hat-room"—and if none of the teachers was around we'd slide down the bannister. That was high school days!

Primary School Pump
An old school mate was talking to me not long ago and asked me to recall when we attended the "Primary School," which stood where the King George school now stands, built in 1913. There used to be a pump in the front yard and it was grand cold water. We were laughing about the way we'd get a drink. We scorned the use of the "community" cup, the water never tasted half so good as when we held our hand under the spout and somebody pumped for us. There was a tiny hole bored just above where the water came out and if you held your hand very tightly over the spout the water spurted up out of this tiny hole. No matter if you got soaked in the process, never did water taste so good as that.

And Tombstones
When you passed to the "Second Book" you automatically had to go up on the hill to the "Big School," the Alexander Muir, and many a game of "Emmaline" we had from one end of the grounds to the other, both boys and girls playing together, with the teachers supervising. That wasn't allowed very often, just now and again. And what mysterious whisperings of tombstones on the boys' side of the playground; for you see there once stood a Methodist church

Prize-Winning Editor Records Pains of Editorial Birth

Every editor has had the experience, more frequently than they like, of being told that writing editorials is a simple matter, that the author of this thought has one in mind at the moment but he hasn't had time to write it yet. And too, every editor has been asked why he didn't write on this subject or that when it is plain to see such matters are begging for the editorial treatment. Well, editors are not infallible, but they do suffer from unique occupational hazards, a record of which is engagingly reported by a contemporary in the Fort Erie Times-Review.

The Times-Review, incidentally, was awarded the prize for the best editorial page of Quebec and Ontario weeklies in a contest in which the Midland Free Press came second, and the Newmarket Era and Express third.

The editorial follows:
Editorials are a cinch! Every day you meet the fellow who tells how he often considered writing them—but he did not get around to it as yet. "Why don't you write about the really important matters? Gosh, if I had a paper, I'd shake 'em up!"

This type of individual comes in dozens, so the competition keeps him out of trying. Some day, though! In the meantime we leave him planning to write the story of his rather extraordinary life.

But you're still keen on finding out how to write editorials? Just so as you'd know, purely for debating material?

First requirement: oodles of paper. If you're your own boss use plenty of paper, but cautiously; if someone else stands the racket—shoot the works!

Much paper is necessary to give you a sense of confidence. Most editors find it helpful to put a few sentences on a sheet of paper, tear the whole thing up, and place in already overloaded wastepaper basket. Repeat this process until you are surrounded by paper, or until you feel 'twould be better to leave this editorial for another day and mood.

We nearly forgot the typewriter. A very useful mechanical contrivance guaranteed to work any writer up to the required heat when the ribbon jumps over the moon. It's always correct form to sit in front of the typewriter, just in case anyone comes in on you. Sure, they think you are working. Bang at the keys when anyone's round. The sheet may be thrown away when the nuisance has left.

Let's see now. There's you, paper in adequate quantity, and a workable typewriter. Oh yes—something to write about. That's the easiest part of the job. Lots of subjects for comment, Mother's Day, father's dilemma, rising costs, and falling—well, er—the Niagara Falls. A good editor must keep eyes and ears open at all times except when experiencing a sand-fly storm.

So we decide on Mother's Day. Could perhaps begin with: "There are mothers and mothers!" Not so good? Yes, it's terribly difficult to get the right atmosphere. As an editor you will become very sensitive and doze. This mother idea will kick around in your brain for maybe a whole week, and you'll still not be expecting much. Of course it's possible to forget the first few paragraphs. Go ahead and write the last part first. Somehow or other there will eventually be two or three pages of type which even your own mother could not decipher. Don't worry too much—the readers never do.

So the Mother's Day editorial has at last been completed. The rules say you should check it over. If you obey the rules you'll probably turn against motherhood. However, the printers will spot the grammatical errors.

The printer tells you that Mother's Day is but eleven months away! So what? Anyone can make mistakes; it's only an editor who can make them continuously?

You decide to stick to plumbings? Sorry to hear that. We had hoped you might trade jobs!

Former Haunt of Big Ones Brook Now Only a Trickle

By Charles L. Patterson in the Farmer's Advocate, London, Ontario

Well, it's been pretty dull today, just right for fishin,' someone remarked in the store a few evenings ago. "Wonder how the city chap made out along the Wilton Brook. He seemed to think he was striking a great trout stream."

The storekeeper glanced through the window. "Maybe we'll find out. He's coming in now."

The young man's clothes bore evidence of a strenuous day struggling through thick alder brush and climbing over rocks and gullies along the winding brook. His face did not wear the pleased expression of a satisfied angler.

"What luck?" the storekeeper asked.

"Rotten!" the young man exploded. "I walked miles and there, we were told, in the southwest corner and the graveyard was behind. Now isn't it queer, come to think of it, curious as we were, we girls never entered on the boys' side—and to this day I have never been there, so it is still as much a mystery to me as it was then. We left there and went to high school and

Skating on the Pond

But the pond was our chief joy and delight. In the winter skating, when the ice was clear—when I was capable of skating up as far as the floating bridge by myself I thought I was pretty smart, I assure you. Then when I was more expert, we used to play hockey with an old tomato can for a puck. We'd race the train as far as the devil's elbow where the pond, by that time a stream only, touched the railroad track. Then we'd skate as far as the "Black Bridge," on the side road that comes out to Yonge St. opposite Mulock's Corners. Along by Cedar Heights was a "Sassafras Tree" and we always stopped to break off a few twigs to chew. Oh the good old days! Carnival Days

Then in the summer we'd go boating—it really was a splendid place in those days. The boys used to go swimming there and "water sports" were a feature for carnival days. There used to be a little bridge over the dam and it was from there the "events" were conducted, while spectators lined the shore all 'round. Walking the greasy pole for a ham attached to the far end! Tub races! Swimming races and swimming piggy-back, and all sorts of old-time amusements, canoe and boat races as far as the floating bridge and back. Then at night fireworks set off from that same little bridge as we all sat 'round on the bank, and a monster bonfire on a raft, anchored in the centre of the pond, for a "grand finale" with the Citizen's Band playing stirring martial music. Yes the pond was truly our centre of attraction, and it soon will be again, and we will all rejoice when the time comes.

only got a few small trout. Had hard enough job finding the brook in places. Back in the hills it's little more than a trickle. I'll certainly give old Mr. Hadley a description he won't relish of the great Wilton Brook he's always raving about. The deep pools he describes are hardly large enough for a good sized trout to swim in. The old gentleman's memory is faulty or he tells some mighty tall stories.

"Neither poor memory nor tall stories, eh, Sam?" said an old timer turning to his neighbor.

"You're right, John," said Sam. "It's been around fifty years since Ed. Hadley last fished on Wilton's brook and you and I remember the deep pools and large trout there in those days."

"Yes," said John. "And a half dozen of us, including Ed. Hadley, used to swim in the deep pool in Wilton's pasture. It's only about two feet deep now."

"Yes, and remember the log drives on that brook in the old days," said Sam. "There was good timber in the back lots and the brook floated it to market."

"Yes, and remember what old Gus Ferguson used to say when the long ridge was being cut over," said John. "He claimed that if the forest was cleared from the watershed and the swales among the hills the brooks and springs would dry up and our farm lands would suffer. Folks used to laugh at him."

"It was many years ahead of his time," said the storekeeper.

"If folks had taken his advice," said Sam, "there'd have been no need to plant seedlings on the ridge as was done a year or so ago. Forest conservation would have been practised as a matter of course and the Wilton brook would be much the same today as we and Ed. Hadley remember it."

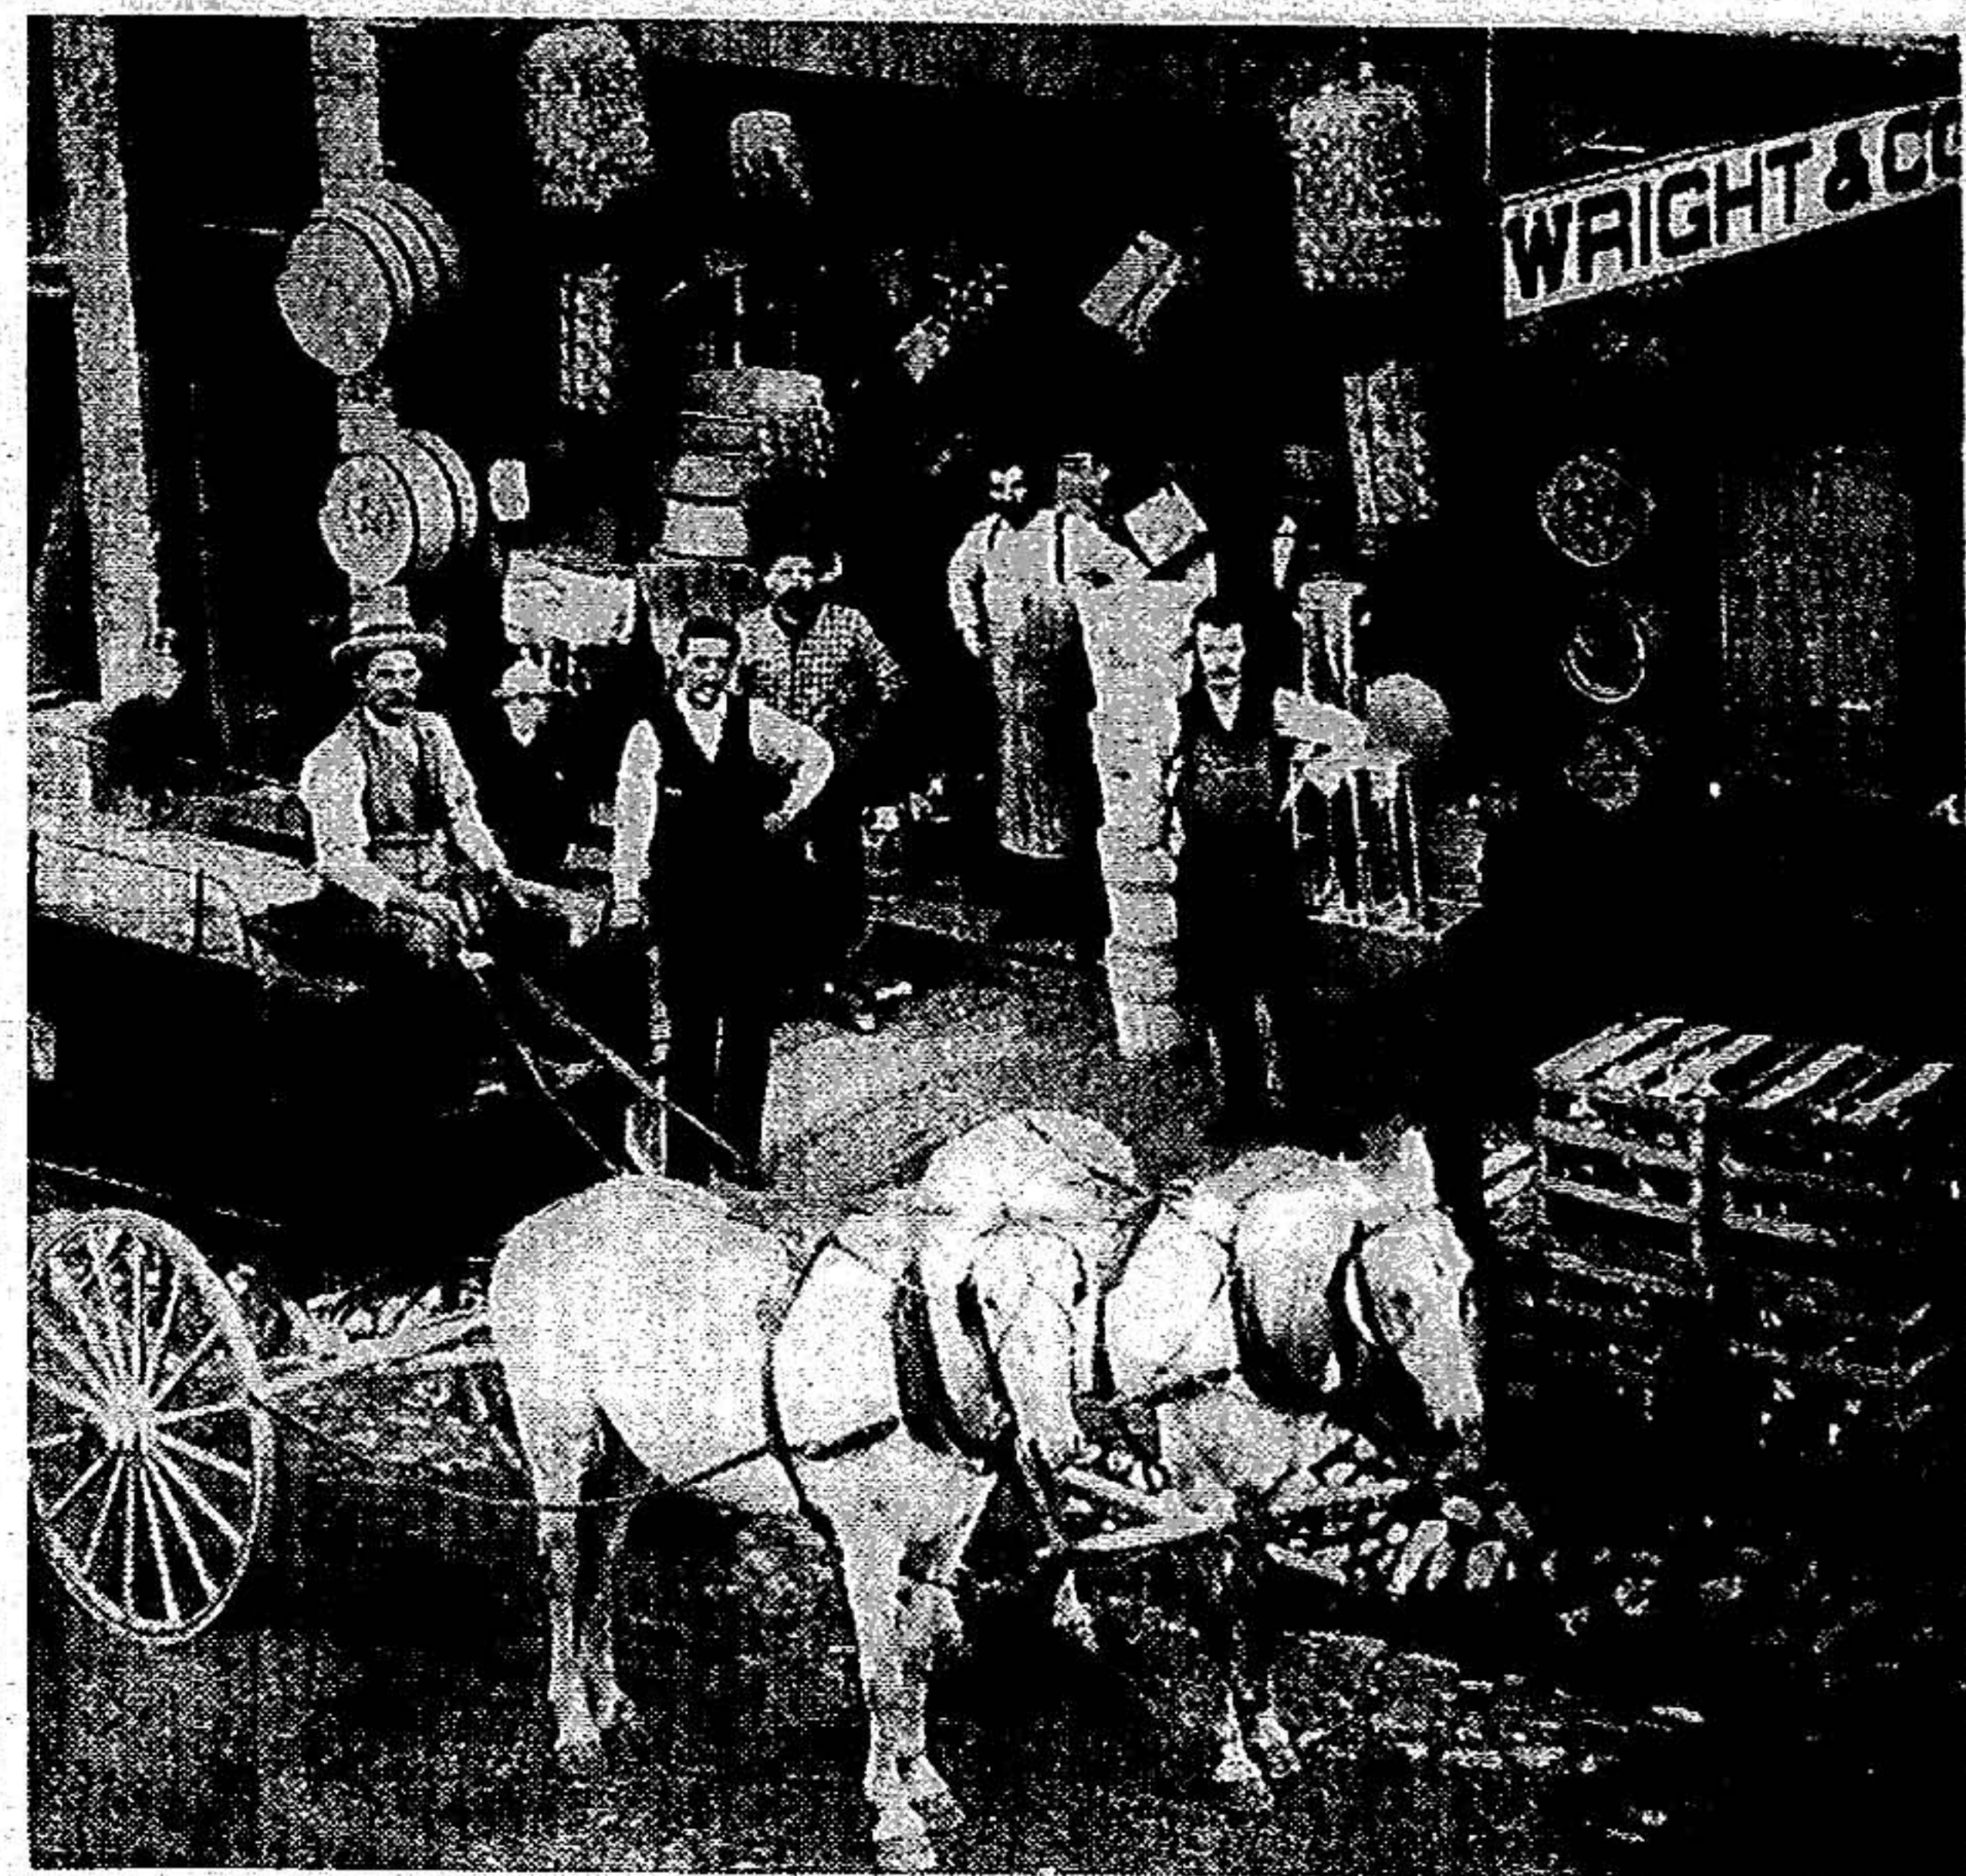

"The same applies to a lot of other brooks and springs through the country," said a young farmer. "We've all been too slow catching on to the need for forest, soil and water conservation."

"We've been learning the hard way," said another, "but so far as this neighborhood is concerned we're all on the conservation band wagon now."

"Well, I'm glad I stopped in," said the young city man. "I've learned that brooks may not go on forever as Tennyson said, unless man co-operates with nature in keeping their sources covered with forest growth. My report to Mr. Hadley on my fishing trip today will be somewhat different from what I intended. He'll wake up to what's been going on through the years and I know a lot of city folk who will be on the conservation band wagon when they realize its importance to the whole country."

The Era and Express is sold in Newmarket at Campbell's, Murray's I.D.A. Drugstore, Best's Drugstore, Hutchinson's, Myers',

Old Picture Recalls Memories

In the July 7 issue of the Era and Express was published the above picture of a group of men before the hardware store of Wright and Co. Three of the men in the picture were identified as Daniel Wright, Al Binns, and Dick Osborne.

We have since heard from Arthur Cook, now living in Preston, with word that he was the man holding the reins of the team in the picture. His daughter writes that Mr. Cook remembers the picture being taken sometime before his marriage.

Mr. Cook was very fond of horses, and kept the team, "Joe and Lizzie," always looking nice.

Mr. Cook was a tinsmith at Al Binns' store some 60 years ago. He left Newmarket 37 years ago although he has kept in touch with the hometown doings through his subscription to the Era and Express.

The fifth man in the picture is identified as Jack Broadwick, another tinsmith on the staff of the store.

Miss Cook says her father can recall many trips into the country as far as Lake Simcoe with the team "Joe and Lizzie" to do tinsmithing jobs as well as deliver their hand-made vacuum washers, strainer pails, and ket-

les. The horses were stabled in Dan Wright's stable at the corner of Queen and Niagara Sts.

Mr. Cook has been remarkably well, working at his trade daily, and taking a keen interest in all things concerned. "He even took part with much activity on one of Clare's floats from 80 to 100 years ago in the parade during the Preston Old Boys' Reunion and Golden Jubilee the week of July 1. Three of the oldest men from the factory were on and my father surely was there with bells on—as the saying goes," said Miss Cook.

Buy Bonds For Stability and Safety

A First Mortgage bond is a secured contract to assure you a definite income each year and the return of your money in a definite number of years at maturity or earlier by operation of the sinking fund.

New Offering

Within a few days we will be making an attractive offering of First Mortgage bonds having the following features:

- 5 1/2% interest per year payable June 1st and December 1st.
- For a great many years this business has been earning several times the interest on the new bonds, in fact, for more than the last twenty, even through the "depression years", this business unfailingly earned more than enough to pay this interest.
- These bonds are secured by a First Mortgage on all present and future land, buildings, plant and equipment.
- Each $1,000 bond is secured by over $2,000 of assets.
- Sinking Fund requires the company to buy in enough bonds each year to pay them all off by maturity.
- No other bonds can be issued to rank with or ahead of these bonds.
- These bonds are legal for investment by Canadian Life Insurance companies.
- A bonus of Common shares is given at the rate of 20 shares per $1,000 bond. Bonds with bonus are also available in $500 denominations.
- Bonus shares provide opportunity for additional income and profit through appreciation. When your bonds are paid off, you still retain your bonus shares unless you have already realized a profit by selling these.

It is Easy to Buy Bonds by Mail

You merely telephone or write to let us know how much you wish to apply for and whether you wish to send us your cheque or wish us to send your bonds to your bank for payment. Then we send you a statement showing the amount to be paid. If you send us your cheque for the amount shown, we send your securities to you by registered and insured mail. If you prefer, we send them to your bank and you pay for them there.

Inquiries Invited

This offering will be mailed to our regular clients and although most of these bonds will be taken up by them, we would like to hear from others who would like to receive a larger return than they are now receiving. Without the slightest obligation on your part, we will be pleased to send particulars of this very attractive offering, if you will fill out and mail the coupon below.

Foote-Notes

BY WILLIAM FOOTE
AURORA EDITOR

Once again the Canadian holiday season is becoming a season of tragedy. In Ontario, the past few weeks have left an appalling record of death by misadventure. The Dominion Day weekend claimed a total of 38 lives of which 14 were lost through drowning and seven in traffic accidents. On the following weekend, there were eight traffic fatalities and two drownings. A hydro worker was electrocuted bringing the three-day death total to 11.

What a price to pay for recreation and relaxation.

The majority of these deaths were either drownings or traffic fatalities. They could have been avoided. Urban life is a tough grind. The office-home routine in soaring temperatures makes relaxation and change essential. It would seem, however, that many in throwing off their daily cares for a weekend, throw away all care for themselves and consideration for others for an attitude of care-free abandon in an effort to relax and enjoy their brief respite from city life.

Joe and Joan Canuck constantly read of these tragedies. Do they soberly reflect upon the matter? The weekend toll doesn't indicate it if they do.

Joe C., or Joan for that matter, don't stop to consider the many times last weekend that they argued with Death. They do not recall and reflect upon the many times they passed on a hill, or the day they clipped through that little village at 45 because they were in a hurry, or went through the stop street in second, or those three or four beers on the way to the beach because it was "so hot driving."

If they do recall any of these things they pass them off just as quickly as they did the time Joe leaned too far over the edge of the canoe and tipped Joan and child into (luckily) two feet of water, or the time he dove into the water without first investigating its depth and scraped his stomach on the bottom of the lake.

No, they forget all these narrow escapes and their deliberate carelessness. "Death?" Huh! it couldn't happen to them. But it did happen to 11 on one weekend. They, too, used to say that it couldn't happen to them, but it did. And it will happen again and again during the rest of the holiday season to people who are saying the same thing right now.

Safety authorities, government officials and the police warn and plead. Stringent regulations are set up to safeguard the public. Newspapers report the toll with black headlines and pictures. But it is still up to Joe and Joan Canuck whether they act sensibly—and live!

The young man had ardently proposed to the broker's daughter, but she could not make up her mind.

"Will you be true to me?" she demanded.

"I'll be true as steel," he declared fervently.

"Common or preferred?" she mused.

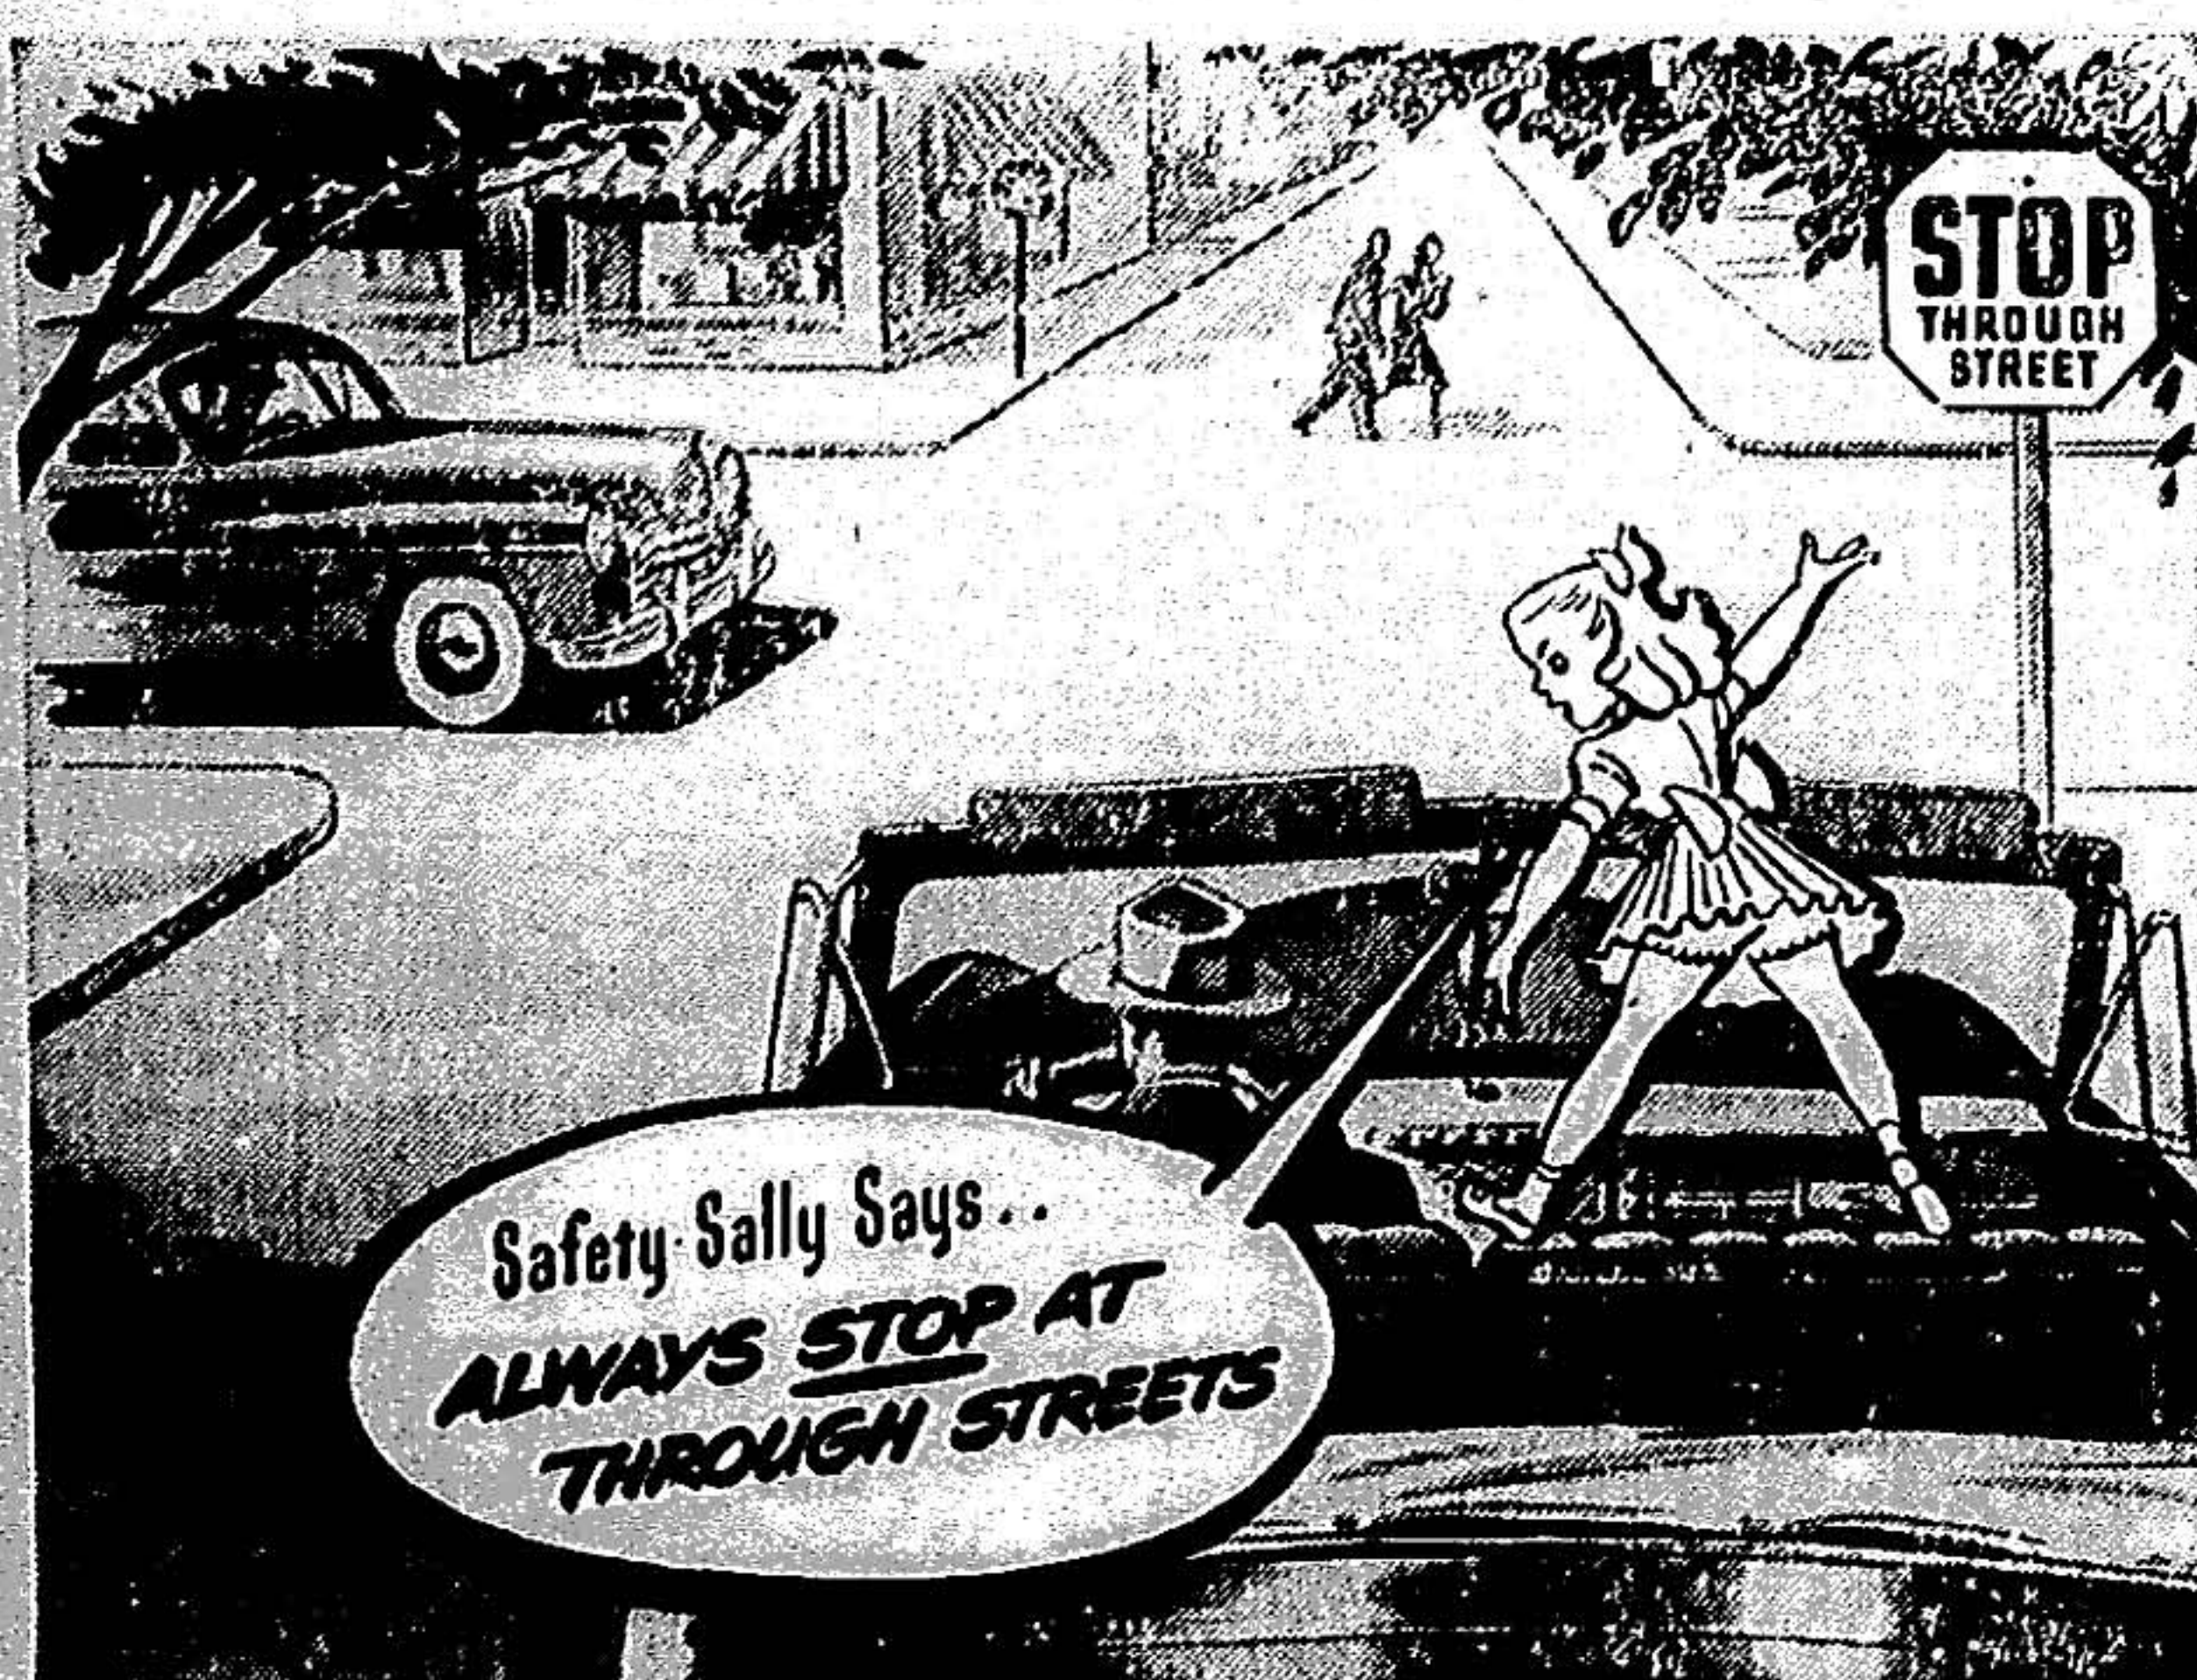

At the headquarters of the Yugoslav secret police they were questioning a newly arrested citizen.

"What is your attitude toward the people's regime?"

"The same as toward my wife."

"What do you mean?"

"Before marriage I loved her; now I'm afraid of her."

When approaching through highways,—STOP and WAIT—it always pays

Before turning into or crossing a through street or highway, come to a complete stop. Look both ways for on-coming traffic. Then proceed with care.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to express our sincere thanks to our neighbors, friends and relatives for their beautiful floral tributes and expressions of sympathy, also to Dr. Lowell Dales, Dr. Jack Dales and Rev. Fred Breckon during our recent bereavement. Norma Patterson, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Patterson.

CARD OF THANKS

We would like to thank all the people who so willingly helped at the time of Mary's accident and all those who sent her cards and gifts. Thanks everyone. Florence and Joe Hodgins.

IN MEMORIAM

Large—In loving memory of a dear husband, Robert Large, who passed to fuller rest, July 19, 1947. Grant that we with them Thy loved ones, Whom by faith we still can see, May, when life's great morning dawneth, Follow Thee. Sadly missed and lovingly remembered by wife.

Pattenden—In loving memory of our dear mother, Della Pattenden, who passed away July 17, 1935. The flowers we place upon her grave May wither and decay; But the love of her who sleeps beneath, Shall never fade away. Ever remembered by daughter Ruth and family.

Pegg—In loving memory of my dear father who died July 24, 1935. Time takes away the edge of grief, But memory turns back every leaf. Daughter Julia.

Pegg—In fond memory of my dear grandfather who died July 23, 1945. His memory is as dear today As in the hour he passed away. Granddaughter Ruth and husband David.

Pegg—In loving memory of a dear husband, Arthur E. Wilson, who passed away July 23, 1945. Our lips cannot tell how much we miss him. Our hearts cannot tell what to say. God only knows how we miss him In the home that is loneliness today. Loving wife, Grace and Lorne.

Wilson—In loving memory of my dear husband, Arthur E. Wilson, who was suddenly called home July 20, 1943. In the bloom of his life God called him. In the pride of his manhood days, Those that knew him, loved him, All spoke of him with praise, Smiling and happy, always content, Loved and respected wherever he went. Thoughtful of others, gentle and kind, A beautiful memory he left behind. Still sadly missed by Minnie.

Woodruff—In loving memory of William Henry Woodruff who died July 25, 1938. There is a mother who misses you sadly. Finds the time long since you went, I think of you daily and hourly. But try to be brave and content. But the tears that I shed in silence And I breathe a sigh of regret For you were mine and I remember, Though all the world forget. Ever remembered by mother and father, sisters and brothers.

OBITUARY

Mrs. Mary McMichael

Aurora — Following a week-long illness, Mrs. Mary McMichael, nee Matchett, died at her home on Metcalfe St. in her 84th year. She had been in poor health for some years, but suffered a stroke a week ago from which she never recovered.

Born at Woodbridge, Mrs. McMichael at an early age moved to Allansville in the Muskoka district with her parents, the late Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Matchett Sr. Attending school there, she married John D. McMichael on the Matchett homestead in 1895. Ten years later the couple moved to Port William where they resided for six years before returning to farm at Agincourt. They moved to Aurora four years ago.

An active, lifelong member of the Presbyterian church, Mrs. McMichael was long a member of the Women's Institute and was a member of the Ladies' Auxiliary of the Presbyterian church in Aurora.

Fond of flowers and gardening, Mrs. McMichael's favorite pastime was fancy work. Her quilts and crochet work were well-known and she was often called upon to judge fancy work and baking contests. The last member of the Matchett family, she is survived by her husband, John D. McMichael.

Funeral service was held in Toronto, conducted by Lieut. Richards, Salvation Army, on July 18. Interment was in Park Lawn cemetery.

Vets Fall, Oshawa
Tops Sports Day

Oshawa "Pedlars," a strong senior softball entry walked away with top money at the Zephyr Sports Day, July 16. The Oshawans skunking Barrie Copacops 15-0 in the finals. Seven teams faced the barrier. Newmarket Vets being beaten out in their first appearance by Barrie Copacops 6-4. Barrie staged a last inning rally to overcome a one run lead held by Cegars McDonald's men.

First round scores were Zephyr 8 Brown Hill 0, Barrie 6 Newmarket 4, Oshawa 1 Mount Albert 0. The latter game being a feature of the afternoon as Mount Albert's Al Marritt, a southpaw by the way, kept Oshawa away from the score sheet until the seventh innings. In fact the ultimate winners couldn't beg-borrow or steal a hit until they put two together in the bottom half of the seventh for their lone run.

In the semi-finals Barrie won 5-3 over Uxbridge while Oshawa eliminated Zephyr 3-1 in another hotly contested tilt. Oshawa completed their winning march with 15-0 triumph over Barrie in the finals. The latter crew giving away at the seams committing a bushel of errors, something they failed to do against the Vets. Al Meuleneester, a leftie, pitched all three games in the Oshawa cause.

The mile run open to contestants from Ontario and Muskoka ridings for the Welsh Cup, an event at the Sports Day these past five years was again won by Allan Taylor of Goodwood,
his second successive triumph, second was Jack Pearson of Uxbridge and third Joe Clark of Ravenshoe.

Vets Win Return
After Bad Licking

It's over 1 — that slump the Vets have been suffering from the past two weeks. They climbed back on the winning bandwagon at the Stuart Scott diamond Tuesday with a 10-6 win over Schomberg. At that for a time—the Vets were committing more errors than in their usual pace — when Joint McComb showed signs of weakening, it looked as though Schomberg might possibly pull up on even terms. The Vets made two big frames do most of their talking.
Bunting skill paid off in both of these.

In the third they pushed over five runs, on a walk, a third-base error, and five hits supplied by Harv. Gibney, Joe Tunney, Fred Dillman, John Hisey and "Mickey" McNulty, two of these being little teasing bunts dropped down in front of the plate.
The Vets almost duplicated the production in the sixth falling one short with four counters.
Ken Tupling made the rally mobile with a clean single, Norm Legge dropped a bunt and was safe when pitcher Ken. Ellison threw wild to first, "Mickey" McNulty, Vets first sacker, sent both home on a solid double, Harv. Gibney stroled, stole second and moved over to three-quarter pole on Joe Tunney's third hit, another bunt, and Harv. Gibney was home free on Fred Dillman's well-educated bunt that couldn't be fielded in time. Vets' first run was put on in the first frame as three walks and a wild pitch allowed lead-off man Ken. Tupling to score.
"Joint" McComb on the Vets' mound lacked some of his usual fire and most of the trouble he found himself in was due to free passes. At that the visiting firemen from Schomberg bunched four hits in the seventh for three runs and built their total up to six.

Joe Tunney was the leading swatter with the Vets on three, Don. Marchant with an equal number was Schomberg's best.

Ladies and Allandale
Each Win Home Game

Share and share alike was the theme last week as Allandale and Newmarket Ladies clashed in a home and home series. The Allandalers surprised our basies up north on Wednesday evening to walk off the field with a 12-0 triumph. Thursday night here at the Park the VanZant-Courtney-Hisey squad got back on the winning trail, with a 0-2 victory.
A pair of bad innings, second and sixth, when five and four runs respectively came scampering home sank the Newmarket ship. True Newmarket scored in all but one chapter, the fifth, scoring one in each of the first four, three in the sixth and two in the seventh. Allandale was away and running with two in the first and a sandwiched in a single counter in the fourth for their twelve total. Pitcher Hester Clark, Lois Blight and Edna McGrath shone in the hit department with three each.

Turning over a leaf to the bright side local fandom had something to cheer about at the S. S. grounds Thursday as our basies got back in the win column by a 9-2 score. Hester Clark pitched steady ball for the locals to silence the Allandale hitters on three singles. Coming up with an improved fielding performance our gals checked in with nine hits.

New Organ Installed
Christ Church, Kettleby

Kettleby — Sunday, July 17 was a very special day for the members of Christ church, as we have acquired a better organ, and it was played for the first time. Also Mr. Paul Inhn who sold it to us, came to our service and gave two selections: "Handel's Largo" and "Lead Kindly Light" on his cello, which was a very special treat to all music lovers.

Flowers were placed in the church in memory of our dear friend, Mrs. Viola Sibley, who passed from us a year ago. Some of them were afterwards sent to her mother, Mrs. Hughey, others were given to Mrs. Abbott.

Service next Sunday, July 24 at Christ church, will be at 9.45 a.m., morning prayer and 11 a.m.
Sunday school.

On Thursday, July 14 a happy party of children and adults from Christ church journeyed to Innisfil Park where they were joined by the Sunday school and congregation of St. Mary Mag-dalene's, Schomberg and enjoyed a joint picnic. There were many races of all kinds for the children, while swimming was the chief sport of many, others took bout rides or pitched horseshoes, but everyone spent a very happy day.

The youngest racer was little Miss Gilham who was only two years old.

JEAN WILLIS WEDS
ARTHUR PEPIATT

The wedding of Jean Evelyn Willis, daughter of Mrs. Mary Willis and the late Edwin Willis, and Arthur Vincent Peppiatt, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur G.
Peppiatt, was solemnized in St.
John's Roman Catholic church,
Newmarket, July 2. Rev. Father Thomas McCabe performed the wedding ceremony, before an altar decorated with Madonna lilies, larkspur and daisies.
Nuptial Mass followed the wedding ceremony. Sister Mary Jane was organist.

Given in marriage by her brother, Mr. Earl Willis, the bride wore a powder-blue eyelet dress and matching headress and carried a white prayerbook with streamers of gardenias. She was attended by her sister, Mrs.
Robert Elphinstone, who wore a yellow eyelet dress.

Best man was Jack Peppiatt, brother of the groom.

The reception was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Willis, Eagle St., after which the bride and groom left by airplane from Toronto on a wedding trip to New York.

Wheatland Day
At Leitchcroft

Newmarket—At the meeting of the directors of the York County Crop Improvement Association on Monday night, everyone reported widespread interest throughout the central counties in the Wheatland Day being staged on July 27 at Leitchcroft Farm, 8 miles north of Toronto. Those who attended the big Grassland Day in Oxford County last week estimated the attendance at 6,000 and several farmers from as far west as Chatham and London are planning to take in the Wheatland Day.

There will be at least seven makes of combines working at once in wheat combining demonstrations by farm implement companies. These will include self-propelled and swather units.
Most of the companies are demonstrating five or six power machines for plowing, tilling, seeding or harvesting wheat.
Other companies will have pickup balers, seed cleaning and seed treating machinery.

The Ontario Agricultural College is co-operating with an educational exhibit including the newly designed automatic hot water treater to treat wheat and barley seed for loose smut. In the hay-rack tour of this demonstration farm various makes of light tractors will be seen pulling rubber tired wagons loaded with visitors who wish to see this well-known farm which features mechanical hay drying equipment, improved pastures, turkeys and mink as well as their show herds of Yorkshires and Ayrshires. All machinery displays will be set up for public inspection and tillage machinery in operation by 10 a.m.
The popular weed spraying demonstrations will be put on by the various companies at 11 a.m.
Three large refreshment booths will have lunch available.

The Hon. T. L. Kennedy will officially open the program at 1 o'clock. W. H. Waddell, winter wheat research specialist at the O.A.C., who has been conducting the test plots here for the past five years, will outline the results of this work and direct attention to the standing plots as well as to those already harvested. At 2 o'clock Professor J. R.
Scott of the agricultural engineering department of the O.A.C.
will signal all combine operators to attack the wheat plots opposite their respective displays.
Throughout the day, tillage demonstrations will be carried on in the tillage area behind the machinery displays and a mobile sound truck will provide a running commentary throughout the afternoon as various machines are in operation.

posal of waste.

The new building is sheeted with wood, over which aluminum has been laid. The walls are insulated and finished on the inside with beaver board.

The capacity of the broiler house will be 15,000 chickens at a time. Brought in when a day old, they are placed in special ga brooders. When 12 weeks old they are sent to a processing plant and the building is once more filled with day-old chicks.

The building will be officially opened Monday. The day's proceedings are to begin at 10 a.m., the official opening taking place at 3 p.m. The top floor will be devoted to a radio broadcast, movies and a broiler display.
On the second floor chicken dinners are to be served continually throughout the day while a dance will be held on the main floor during the evening. Open to the public, over 1,000 guests are expected.

In charge of the new broiler house is Edward Whitfield. Adjacent to the building a new home is being constructed for him. Commenting on the new building he said, "I have been at this work for some time, but this building is the finest of its kind that I have yet seen."

Coronet Carries Story Dorothy and Carol Bowman

Newmarket—In the August issue of Coronet, 2,500,000 people will read the story of Dorothy Bowman's courageous work to provide Carol with sufficient facility to lead a useful and happy life.

In Newmarket, where Mrs. Bowman has done so much to advance the happiness and learning of children with natural handicaps, this article will undoubtedly meet with acclaim. The following excerpts from the article tell how the Bowmans relate when they learned the full extent of their child's handicaps:

There must be doctors, there must be schools, there must be recovery for her child, immediate recovery. And so began the long and futile trips to doctors, to clinics, to institutes for the deaf and the blind.

Always the verdict was the same. Carol would not see. Carol would not hear. She might never speak, and her sense of balance was definitely awry. Bleakly, Dorothy Bowman faced the future. What ever was done, she must do. But she would never put her child in an institution. Already she had learned that Carol had a good mind slumbering beneath its handicaps—and a way must be found to make that mind useful. From hopelessness and despair, Dorothy Bowman's restless intellect reached out beyond the present.

"Suddenly there was nothing tragic about my life or my child's," she recalls. "I saw a whole new life opening before me—a life with a completely worth-while mission. I dedica-

Reception From Aurora Far Exceeds Hopes - V.O.N.

Aurora — The new V.O.N. nurse, Miss Helen Devlin, disclosed this week that her reception in Aurora has exceeded by far her expectations. "Everyone is so co-operative and helpful," she stated. "They have been grand."

Miss Devlin arrived in Aurora early in July. A graduate of Kingston General hospital and Queen's University (public health nursing), she was given Aurora as her first permanent post.

"I find a general awareness of health and its problems on the part of the people of Aurora," she said. "This means much in our work. This health-consciousness reflects the progressive attitude towards public health on the part of the people of Aurora."

A Vacation Memory . . .

At Port Bolster beach we have found a beautiful place for a summer holiday. The water is shallow for such a long way along the shore and out into Lake Simcoe that children may play safely. It is located near enough to home that one can easily reach it for a day, a week or evening's enjoyment.

The warm water with its varied moods is the "playground" of hundreds who seek relief from a city's heat. The passing boats add the drone of motors to the songs of birds and shouts of children.

If you want some refreshment you may get it at the excellent snack bar of Lakeside Lodge which is operated by friendly Mr. and Mrs. Noble. For those who wish to spend days or weeks in this place made so beautiful by the creator of all nature, adequate accommodation may be obtained in lodge or cabins. You can be really comfortable without too many of the frills of sophistication.

A nearby park has magnificent trees and is large enough for picnics. A playing field gives the tired working man a chance to match his baseball skill with his friends and the young people. Visitors may rent lockers in order to change their clothes for swimming at this private beach.

We have discovered that young and old may find ample holiday pleasures, in and near Port Bolster. What a wonderful country is Canada! — Mrs. D. F. Streeter.

CLARA L. LUNDY WEDS N. T. BURNS

A very pretty wedding took place in Wesley United church Saturday, July 16 at 7 o'clock when Clara Louise Lundy daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred Lundy, was united in marriage to Norman Thomas Burns, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Burns of Toronto. Rev. E. A. Modile officiated with Mr. G. E. Richardson playing the wedding music. Mrs. Grant Morley, guest soloist sang "The Lord's Prayer", and "I'll Walk Beside You".

The bride's attendants were her sister, Miss Jean Lundy as maid of honor, Miss Barbara McFarthen, and Miss Isobel Quinn as bridesmaids.

Mr. Ray Burns, brother of the groom, was best man. Mr. Joe Lundy, brother of the bride, and Mr. John Watson, brother-in-law of the groom, acted as ushers.

Following the reception which was held at the bride's home, the happy couple left for points north. They will reside in Toronto on their return.

News Sense, Radio Voice Can Open Way to 'Ex' Job

Winners of the newscaster competition at the 49 Canadian National Exhibition will be offered jobs for the rest of Canada's big fair right there on the spot. What's more, they will be awarded handsome cash prizes and next day appear as guests on regular Toronto newscasts.

This contest is open to anyone with a nose for news and a voice for radio. Each person will be asked to deliver a newscast of at least three minutes. The news will be available from the teletype machine the Canadian National Exhibition women's division will provide for the purpose. The contest will be scored on choice of news items, smartness and interest in delivery. Cash prizes are $50 for first, $40 for second, $30 for third and $20 for fourth. There is no entry fee but all entries must reach the women's division of the Canadian National Exhibition not later than August 15.

COOPER - TAYLOR LAWN WEDDING

Under an arch of cedar boughs and summer flowers, a very pretty lawn wedding was solemnized on Saturday, July 16, at the home of the bride's parents when Marjorie Doreen Taylor, daughter of Mrs. Chas. Farrow, became the bride of Ralph Edward Cooper, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jos. Cooper, of Mount Albert. The ceremony was conducted by Rev. Gibson Brown of Bloomington. Mrs. George Stewart of Toronto played the wedding music and Mrs. Walter Hope was soloist.

Given in marriage by Mr. Farrow, the bride wore a street-length gown of white woven Robia voile with a fingertip veil, and carried a bouquet of red roses. The bride was attended by Miss Evelyn Bacon of Goodwood who wore a gown of powder blue taffeta designed similar to the bride's, and carried yellow roses. Little Madeline Hackney, cousin of the bride, was flower girl, dressed in white taffeta.

William Broad of Stouffville was groomsmen.

The bride's mother received in a blue crepe dress with navy accessories and wore a corsage of pink roses. The groom's mother wore a rose crepe dress, white accessories, and a corsage of pink roses.

The happy couple left on a short honeymoon, and upon their return will reside at the groom's farm at Roseville.

IT'S A Woman's World

By CAROLINE E. ION

After a drought such as York county experienced this year, the rain when it finally came, revived not only the fields and garden crops but, also, the gardeners. This spring found us enthusiastically planning a larger garden than we had had previously. With high hopes we got such early crops as lettuce, radish, spinach and peas planted. Then came the long, long wait—Doggiedly we persisted and soon every inch of vegetable garden space was occupied. The discouragement we felt was kindred to the sentiments endured by most gardeners as we waited in vain for the cucumbers to germinate—our new lawn to make its appearance—the annuals to bloom. But now that the rains have come we once more feel that gardening is a dandy hobby.

Again we make plans for a green carpet of lawn and prepare the space for the future perennial border. The last sowing of cucumbers has actually germinated. A late crop of carrots and beets, to be stored for winter use, have been planted as has some Marcross hybrid corn which we hope to enjoy in September.

The uncertainties of farming have been well known to the farmer and his family through many past bitter experiences. But this season even the town and city dwellers shared his anxieties. In some cases it was only to worry about the rise in prices that such weather would cause them. We were amazed to be offered $1.00 a six-quart basket for peas this year—unfortunately we were unable to fill the order. From the number of enquiries received more than one garden failed to supply the family needs for this tasty, early summer vegetable.

Crops in the Niagara peninsula are two weeks ahead of schedule. On our weekend trip to Buffalo we stopped at several roadside booths to purchase fruit. A short-lived season was the report of most of the growers. An abundance of cherries, raspberries, black and red currants, peaches and even plums were being offered for sale. Prices were top notch with a six-quart basket of cherries selling for $1.35 and currants at 50 cents a quart. These high prices are due not alone to the drought but also to the cost of labor. One farmer's wife told us that they were paying youngsters $1.00 to pick a six-quart basket of currants. Poor returns for the farmer for the time and effort needed in their cultivation. With the increasing use of machinery on the farms and the decrease in the size of families there is never enough labor on the fruit farms to handle the picking. The machinery takes care of the spraying and cultivation but leaves the other work to human hands.

One highlight of the weekend was the seeing off to Ottawa of our nephew, Niki, for the Scout Jamboree. Hamilton gave them a worthy send-off with the station being crowded with friends and relatives. Music was provided by the noted Dominion Foundries and Steel Company pipe band. Niki represented the Dundas company and a total of 52 boys left for the international camping period of ten days. Dunnage bags, haversacks, some almost the size of the Scouts staggering under their weight, were piled in a tremendous heap for the roll call. It seemed impossible that those few boys could claim ownership of so much equipment and connections with so many relatives and friends.

We have always claimed that we "thrilled" to the skirl of the bagpipes anywhere. But now we must qualify that statement with the exception of a railway station. Can you visualize the scene? Boys excitedly calling to one another; mothers reminding them to do a dozen different things while away; voices raising in an unending crescendo and over it all the pipes . . . It was quite a send-off.

—Mrs. J. Riddell and Margaret are spending their vacation at Orchard Beach, Lake Simcoe.

—Miss Margaret Moffat is holidaying at Midland.

—Mr. and Mrs. Allan Hendren, Peterborough, spent last Thursday as guests of Mr. Hendren's cousin, Mrs. Thos. McCormick, and Mr. McCormick.

YOUNG HOPEFULS BY DOROTHY MUIR BOWMAN

Forethought Could've Spared Danny's Humiliation

Danny, at nine years, is a chronic bed-wetter who has suffered needless embarrassment at a boys' summer camp as a result. Danny had been at camp almost a week before the leader of his cabin learned that he was having trouble during the nights. The leader happened to overhear some of the younger boys teasing Danny about wetting his bed—whereupon he asked Danny to report to the nurse immediately after breakfast.

Poor Danny was too mortified for words. He didn't appear for breakfast; but was discovered shortly afterwards, trekking down the highway in the direction of his home. Danny was promptly returned to camp for questioning.

This entire humiliating experience would have been avoided if the question of bed-wetting had been truthfully answered on Danny's application blank prior to his admission to camp. Questionnaires and applications for admission to camps and schools are partially prepared with a view to assisting the staff to better provide for the requirements of the applicants. As such, they should be filled in carefully and honestly.

When Danny was questioned, it was learned that he liked camp and didn't want to be sent home—but his mother had told him that he would be sent home if he wet the bed. It was as if his mother thought his bed-wetting was a habit he could turn on or off at will.

Such was not the case in Dan-

Weekend Budget for 5 Could Win $100 at 'Ex'

Some smart homemaker will win $100 for putting her shopping "know how" on paper at this year's Canadian National Exhibition. The weekend Budget Competition, to be held on Saturday, Sept. 10, offers $100 for first prize, $75 for second prize, $75 for second prize and $50 for third prize to the Canadian homemakers planning the best weekend budget for five people.

ny's instance or in the instances of a couple of other young campers. However, in the other instances, the applications had admitted kidney weaknesses and these boys were duly looked after by the staff. Their mattresses were covered with an inconspicuous white sheeting, they were advised to avoid drinking more than one glass of milk or cup of cocoa with their evening meal and to refrain from extra evening refreshments, and they were awakened at midnight to go to the bathroom.

After the system of camp was explained to Danny, he was very willing to cooperate and happy to be allowed to stay at camp. With help, he is making a gallant effort to live down his unsavory reputation as a bed-wetter—a reputation he acquired through no fault of his own.

The Common Round...

By Isabel Inglis Colville

OF THIS AND THAT

Has it ever occurred to you that this year we have seen very few rainbows? Of course there was a good reason—no rain to give the glorious arch a chance to display its jewelled glory in the heavens.

I hadn't been thinking about rainbows, particularly, but on Sunday the Rev. Fred Breckon preached a sermon which gave rainbows from Noah's time to ours, a new significance—a reminder that the rainbow of God's promises can span our troubles and sorrows and carry His mercy to our need.

I used to think, when I was a little child, that if I could just reach the spot where the end seemed to rest, I could touch it and maybe it would be smooth as satin and strong as steel, and perhaps I could sit on it and see all the world. But alas! as I ran toward it, it would vanish and I'd go sadly home to mother to find out where it went. The mothers of those days couldn't give a scientific answer but they usually had a satisfactory one.

When I read a story which said there was a pot of gold at the end of the rainbow, I was more intrigued than ever until someone told me that that saying was just allegorical—the rainbow spoken of in the story was just all our hopes and wishes congealed into a rainbow bridge for us to cross, and there find the fulfilment of all our ambitions.

This might be more sensible but not so picturesque, so when someone told me that the colors of the rainbow were repeated in the precious stones that formed the foundation of the Holy City—the New Jerusalem—I was consoled, for here the glory of those rainbow colors came into its own.

I remember that the story went on to say that each stone had a meaning which gave it a right to a place in both the rainbow and the foundation, for both were formed on a promise to God's people.

Rainbows can take strange forms. I remember one evening seeing, at the close of a storm, two glowing iridescent pillars — like two glorified gate posts — which seemed to reach from earth to heaven. One almost expected to see great gates open and some wondrous vista opened to our eyes.

But all too soon they vanished and only a memory of something rare and beautiful remained.

One day this summer our neighbor, Mrs. Hunt, told me that she saw a rainbow circle 'round the sun and I have always regretted that she could not reach me in time for me to see it.

And twice I saw a double rainbow—each perfect—as if to make us doubly sure that no promise of God's can be broken. No Crickets

I don't know whether other people love to hear crickets chirping or not? To me its like a cat's purr—a contented sound—I always think of Dickens' "Crickets on the Hearth." We don't hear the frogs so much either. I suppose the drought dried up the small creeks and marshy places. To me, the birds and crickets, the tree toads and the frogs form an orchestra that gives nature a voice. The frogs furnish bass and tenor, the birds soprano, lyric and coloratura, and the crickets a nice flowing alto. I'm thankful the birds still sing!

Good Eating Meal or Snack

Whether the lunch box is carried to work, to school or to a picnic, something a little different is always welcome. Baking powder breads are easy to make, easy to carry and good to eat. They usually are better the second or third day after making and so may be kept on hand for home or carried meals.

BUTTERSCOTCH BREAD

1 Egg
1 Cup brown sugar
2 Tbsp. shortening, melted
2 Cups sifted all-purpose flour
1/2 Tsp. baking soda
1/2 Tsp. baking powder
1/2 Tsp. salt
1 Cup buttermilk or sour milk
1/2 Cup chopped nuts
2 Tsp. grated orange rind
Beat egg, add sugar gradually, heating until light and creamy. Add melted shortening and blend well. Mix and sift flour, soda, baking powder and salt and add to egg mixture alternately with the buttermilk or sour milk and stir until mixed. Add nuts and orange rind. Pour into a greased loaf pan, 9" x 5" and bake in a moderate oven, 350 degrees, for one hour. Yield: one loaf. (Cuts into about 24 slices.)

PEANUT BUTTER BREAD

2 Cups sifted all-purpose flour
1 Tsp. baking powder
1/2 Tsp. salt
1/2 Cup sugar
1/2 Cup peanut butter
1 1/2 Cups milk

1 Cup chopped dates
Mix and sift flour, baking powder, salt and sugar. Add peanut butter and cut in until the mixture resembles coarse bread crumbs. Add milk and beat thoroughly. The batter should be soft. Add dates. Pour into a greased loaf pan, 7" x 3", and bake in a moderate oven, 350 degrees, one hour. Yield: one loaf. This is good when fresh but will cut to better advantage when a day old.

WHOLE WHEAT ORANGE BREAD

2 Orange skins
1/2 Cup sugar
1/2 Cup water
2 Tbsp. melted fat
1 Egg
1 Cup milk
1 1/4 Cups sifted all-purpose flour
1/2 Tsp. salt
5 Tsp. baking powder
1 1/4 Cups whole wheat flour
Remove white pithy portion of orange skins and put skins through a food chopper. Add water and sugar. Cook 15 minutes. Add fat and allow to cool. Beat egg and add milk. Sift white flour with salt and baking powder, mix with whole wheat flour. Add half the dry ingredients to the egg and milk, then add orange and remaining dry ingredients quickly, stirring only until mixed. Bake in a greased loaf pan, 9" x 5", in a moderately slow oven, 325 degrees, for 45 minutes. Yield: one loaf.

LORNE McCORDICK WED IN KINGSTON

Chalmers United church, Kingston, was the scene of a lovely wedding on Saturday, June 25, at 2:30 p.m., when Marguerite (Peggy) Smeathers, youngest daughter of Mrs. Alice Smeathers and the late Alfred Smeathers, became the bride of Lorne McCordick, only son of Mr. and Mrs. H. C. McCordick, Newmarket. The groom is a graduate of the Ontario College of Pharmacy. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Dr. George A. Brown. The church was decorated with snapdragons and peonies. Miss Lenore Black played traditional wedding music.

The bride chose for her wedding a gown of white satin with net neckline, embroidered with seed pearls. The gathered bodice had long sleeves coming to points over the hands. Her full length veil of embroidered net was held with a halo of orange blossoms. She carried a cascade of Bettertime and Butterfly roses and stephanotis.

Mrs. Freddy Brim was her sister's matron of honor, gowned in brocade blue nylon over satin. She wore a blue net fingertip veil and carried a nosegay of roses and sweetpeas. The groom was attended by Donald Burns, Toronto, and the ushers were Martin Smeathers, Kingston, and Ron Smeathers, Brockville.

A reception was held at Morrison's Party Lounge. Mrs. Smeathers wore a heavenly blue crepe dress with a corsage of

RAIN SAVES PASTURES AND LATE CROPS

Heavy rainfall of July 9 and 10 ended one of the worst drought periods in Ontario's history, S. H. H. Symons, Director of the Statistics Branch, Ontario Department of Agriculture, states in his monthly crop report for July.

"Prolonged extremely dry weather," he says, "extending in some areas from seeding time, has reduced this year's crop outlook in central and central-western counties of Ontario."

It is pointed out in the report that loss to crops through drought as well as extremely cool weather early in the season, has caused damage that is expected to exceed $100,000,000.

Recent rains ranging from one inch to almost two inches of precipitation, will be of immense value in preventing further losses. They will also improve pastures, second hay crops and grain crops which have not already matured and the development of late field and root crops as well as all growing fruits and vegetables.

The dry conditions did not cover the entire province, the report reveals. Some sections received a fair amount of rain during April, May and June.

The crops most affected by the unfavourable weather are alfalfa, hay and clover, pastures, spring grains, strawberries, canning peas, and early vegetables.

Stouffville Holstein R.O.P. Classified Very Good

Stouffville — DeVries Joan Pabst, a member of the purebred Holstein herd of Lloyd Turner, has recently completed an R.O.P. test as a five-year-old of 25,917 lbs. milk containing 790 lbs. fat. She was on test for 365 days during which time she was milked three times daily.

"Joan" has been classified as very good in selective registration.

Ranks 4th in Canada Wins R.O.P. Certificate

Schomberg—Cecil Atkinson is the proud owner of a purebred Holstein that has recently qualified for a Certificate of Superior Production by producing as a junior four-year-old in 365 days on twice-a-day milking 23,614 lbs. milk containing 792 lbs. fat. This record stands fourth for milk for all time in Canada in its class, thus qualifying for a Certificate of Superior Production as presented by the Holstein-Friesian Association of Canada.

As a junior-two-old this animal produced in 365 days on twice-a-day milking, 584 lbs. fat from 17,292 lbs. milk. She has been classified as good plus in selective registration.

Weekly Garden-Graph

BY DEAN HALLIDAY
(Released by Central Press Canadian)

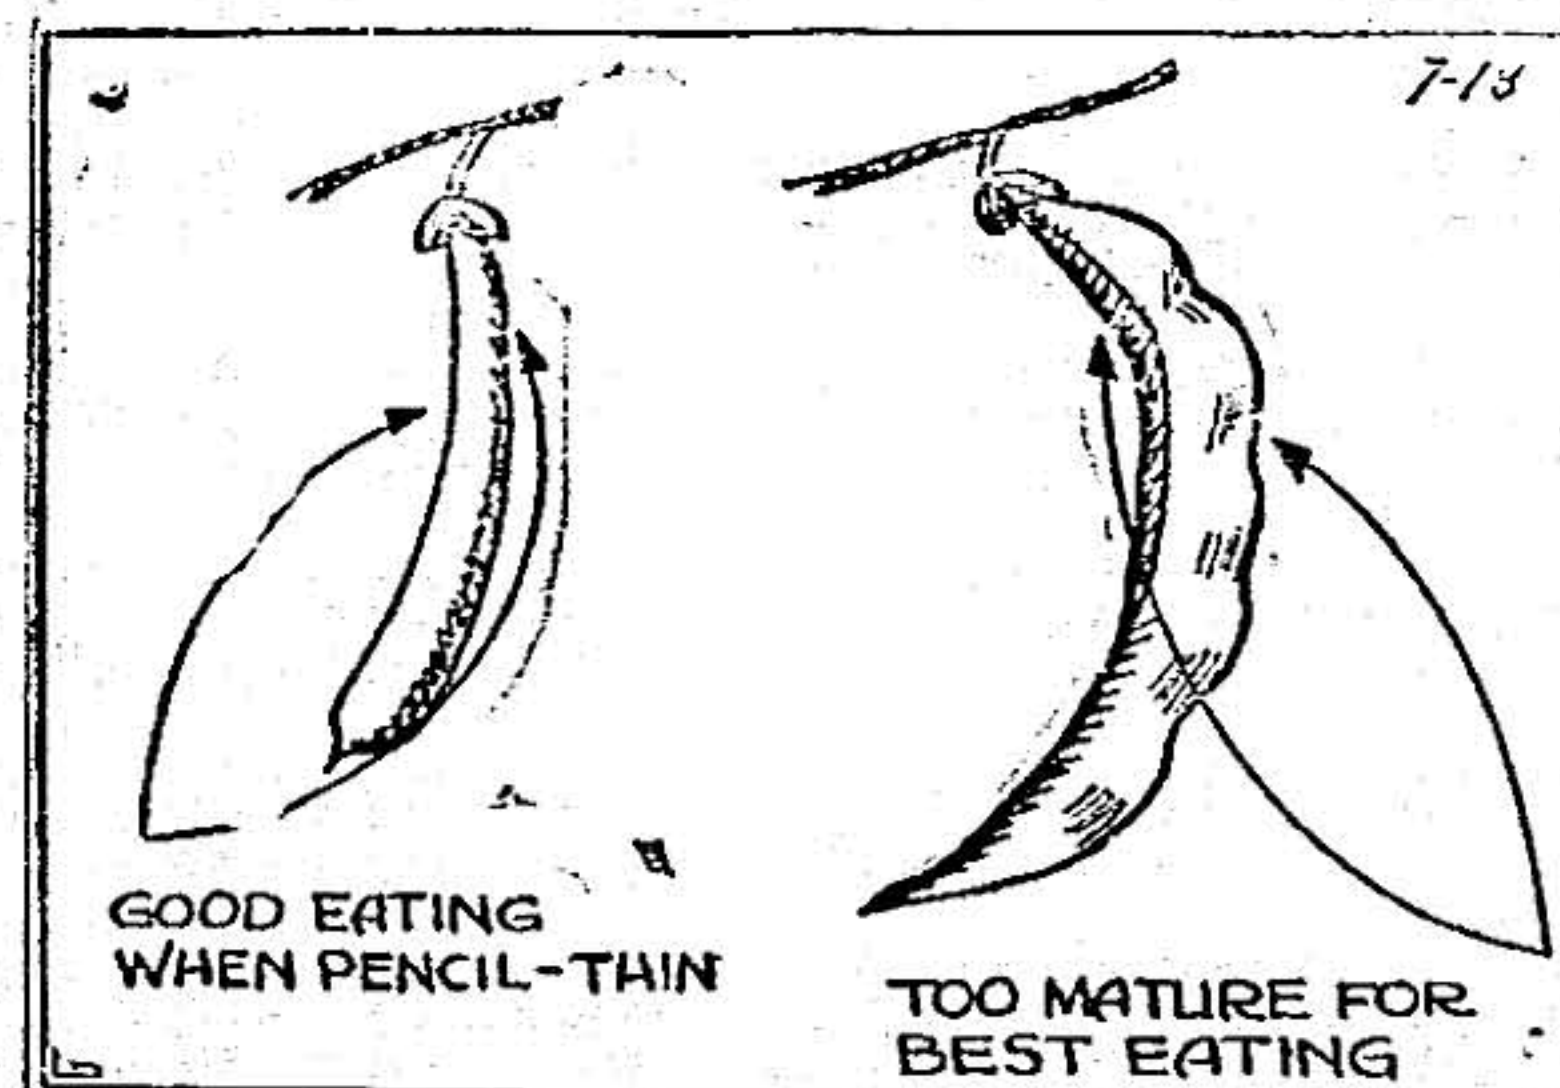

The home gardener who planted early bush beans for the first pickings, and pole beans for mid-season, can still plant a third crop. This can be done in most areas as late as the first week in August. For this planting be sure to select one of the early maturing varieties of beans. Until this third planting is completely killed by frost, it should provide an ample crop for table use and canning purposes.

As illustrated in the accompanying Garden-Graph, beans are at their best when streamlined and pencil-thin. When beans become too mature to use as snap beans (indicated by the bulge of seeds illustrated) they can be opened and the bean seeds used to advantage as shell or dry beans.

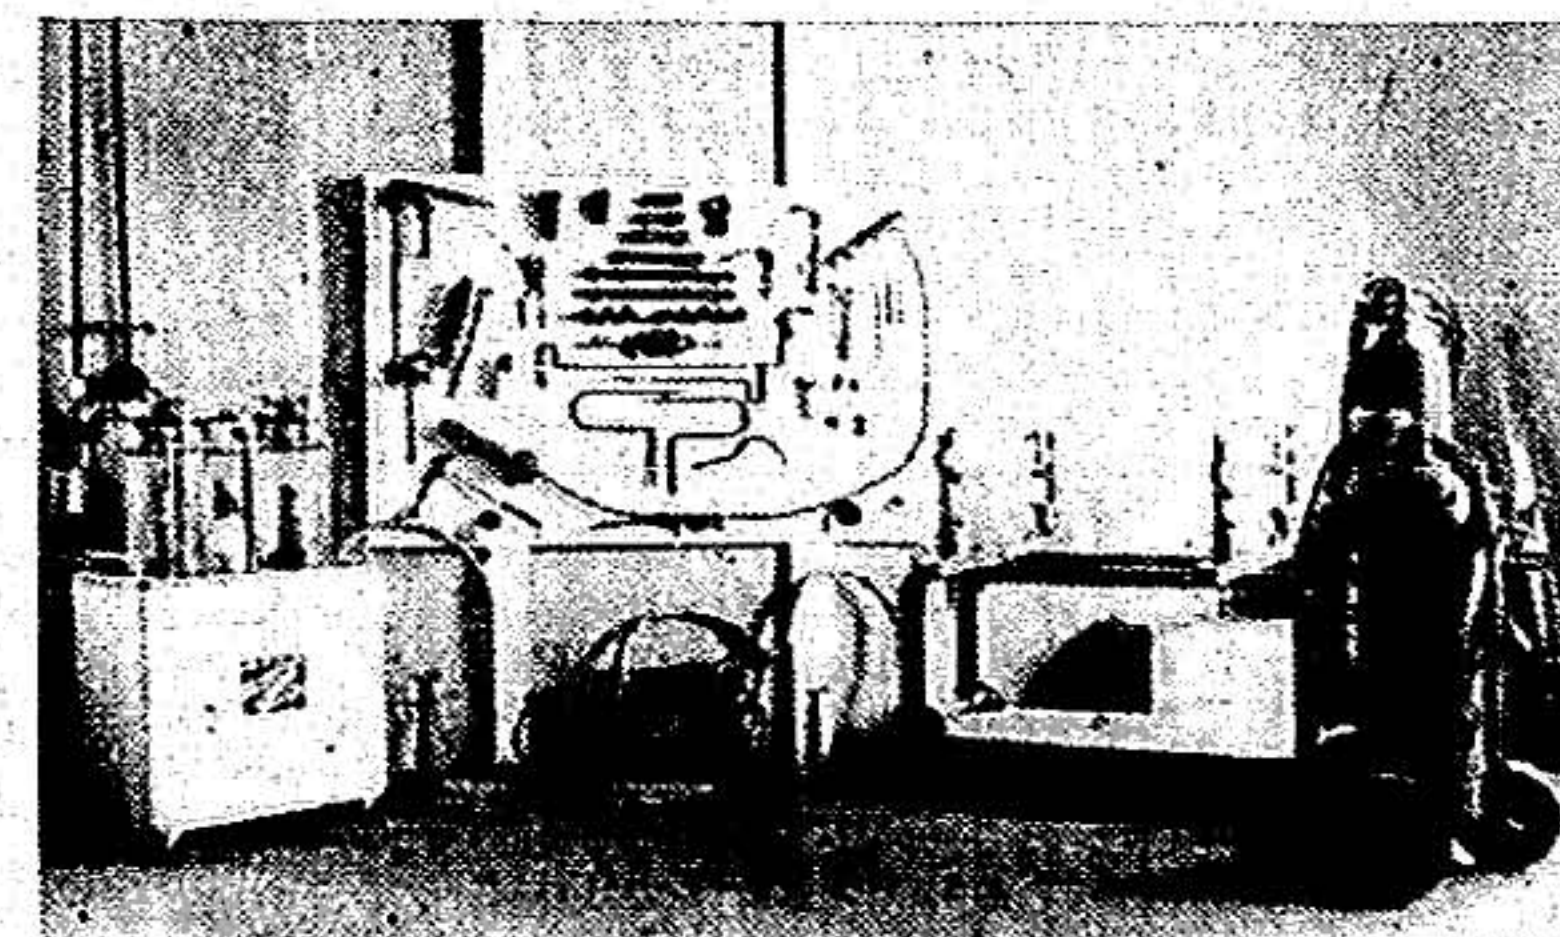

When beans are permitted to dry on the vine, production halts. If the pods are kept picked, the bearing season is prolonged. A good picking plan is to go over the plants every few days. Some varieties of beans become stringy unless used when young. Modern varieties of snap beans, however, have no strings, but lose flavor and tenderness if left on the vines until the beans become prominent in the pods.

Snap beans retain their quality fairly well for a day or so after picking, if stored in a cool, moist place. Top quality is only enjoyed, however, when they are picked and served within an hour or so.

In the case of lima beans, maximum flavor and food value is obtained only when the beans are full grown. This stage is indicated by a slight leatherness of the pod. The beans within seem very prominent as the pods are felt between the fingers.

A FARMER'S OPINION

Claims Credit Measures Hurt Farm Financing

By JOHN ATKINS
Shingwauc Farm

A generation ago a young man who had learned farming by working with a good farmer, and who had saved a reasonable part of his wages, could enter into life partnership with a fine young farm woman and find the means of founding his own farm home.

By intelligent management and hard work the young farmer and his wife, with the aid of a growing family, could pay for the help in founding farm homes of their own or in getting started in some other life work.

That foundation of Canadian agriculture has been undermined by many economic inequities including the honest efforts of mistaken legislators who sought to save unfortunate farm debtors.

Up until World War I the investment of equal skilled effort and money would produce comparable results in good living and real earnings, on the farms and in the towns of Canada. Retiring farmers were safe in selling their farms to young farmers of ability and good character who were under the necessity of making their agreed payments in order to keep their farms. Today some protective legislation fosters imprudent arm ventures and often goes too far in saving single-crop farmers from the losses of crop gambling.

Before protective legislation encouraged farmers to take undue risks in specialized production, a farmer with debts was obliged to diversify his farming to provide part of his own living and to spread his risks to insure a sufficient income from some lines of production to meet his obligations. Only circumstances beyond his control, in which he should be and has been aided in carrying on, prevented a good farmer from getting along and paying his debts. Equitable credit fosters an economic degree of mixed farming which tends to safeguard livelihood, conserve soil, maintain fertility, and protect assets.

Cheerio Group Holds Picnic At Cobourg

Mount Albert — The Cheerio Group held a very delightful picnic at Cobourg last Thursday, going by bus. Leaving at 9.30 a.m., they arrived in Cobourg and had dinner in the park where space was reserved for their party, after which they were taken on a sight seeing tour and shown all the places of interest and old landmarks. They have had rain there so everything in the park and around was very beautiful. Afterwards they returned to the park for games, the ball game being the most outstanding feature. For their evening meal they were taken to the home where Marie Dressler, the famous actress, was born and which is now a tea-room and antique museum.

They enjoyed seeing the old relics and hearing their history. One very beautiful thing was a crystal chandelier over 100 years old. Then they were served a dinner, one which the ladies will remember for sometime to come (just ask them). They were home about 10.30 and declared it the best trip they have had yet—never a dull moment from the time they left till they returned.

Monday, August 1, will be the Legion Sports Day at Mount Albert park. Lots of entertainment for all. Do not miss it.

Many attended the Zephyr Sports Day on Saturday. The junior boys' ball team was successful in winning first prize, $10.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Marchant, Schomberg, spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Beverly Sinclair.

Mr. Lorne Mainprize, Glen and Paul, have been on a fishing trip at Kaladar.

Mr. and Mrs. Anglin and Miss Wilma Anglin motored to Whippervill Camp on Lake Mazinaw on Sunday where Mrs. Anglin and Miss Anglin will spend two weeks.

Mr. Will Harper and family of Viceroy, Sask., have been visitors at the home of Mr. Harper's brother, Seymour Harper.

Mr. and Mrs. Don Loach, Toronto, were in town over the weekend.

Mr. and Mrs. Don Degeer returned on Saturday from holidays, camping near Picton and went on to their home in Toronto on Sunday.

Dr. and Mrs. Car: s, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Stew.: Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Pearson and Mr. and Mrs. Reg. Willbee motored to Kincardine and spent the weekend.

There will be a window show in Miss Leck's store on Tuesday, July 26.

Classes are: 1 spike of delphinium, 3 spikes delphinium, bouquet of sweetpeas, 3 carnations, 1 tea rose, any color, collection of single petunias, collection of double petunias, bowl of nasturtiums, 3 geranium flowers.

Exhibits are to be before 11 o'clock.

Miss Etta Stokes, Toronto, is holidaying at the home of her mother, Mrs. W. D. Stokes.

UNIQUE SCHOOL

Choir Boys Trained At Keswick

Two weeks of choir school has just ended at Mahoney's Road on the north border of Keswick. The school was located at Appleton Lodge, residence of Rev. Robert Pugh, R.M.T., who incepted and sponsored it.

Those attending were ten chorister boys from St. George's Anglican church, Toronto; one from St. James the Apostle, Sharon; and one from New York City; Mr. J. L. Slater, organist and the choirmaster of the Church of Heavenly Rest, New York City; and Mrs. John Cozens and daughter, Carol, of Toronto. Those attending for shorter periods included John Cozens, conductor of the Tallis and Harmony choirs, and Bernard Leshley, organist and choir-master of St. George's, with Mrs. Leshley.

Mr. Slater's attendance was a stroke of good fortune; he was recommended by the veteran organist and composer, Dr. T. Tertius Noble, a friend and teacher of Mr. Pugh. Before being appointed to the Church of Heavenly Rest from Utica, Mr. Slater filled various church appointments in and around London, England, following nine year's training as chorister and assistant organist at York Minster, under the late Sir Edward Bairstaw.

School administration fell into three categories: music instruction, discipline and catering. All three call for teamwork, and the success of the school was assured, thanks to the teamwork by instructors and boys. Mr. Slater made himself responsible for games, swimming, physical drill and dormitory discipline. Mr. Pugh conducted all rehearsals. These were held twice daily, two hours in the forenoon, covering vocal exercises, new anthems and hymns, painting of the Psalter, reading aloud and the late afternoon sessions of about one hour covered ear training, the best secular songs and ended with selections chosen by the boys themselves.

Much of the school's happy atmosphere was due to the general competence of Mrs. John Cozens. In addition to looking after the catering, she made things otherwise pleasant by organizing and conducting nature study and other contests for the boys, out of hours. The lighter side of the school life included a birthday party for one of the choristers. All of the boys put on weight during the two weeks.

Swimming and facilities for ball games were provided for by a friendly neighbor. On some evenings boxing instruction was given by another good neighbor. Carol joined in all of the boys' activities.

On the two Sundays of the session period, the choristers assisted at the morning and evening services at Christ church, Roeh's Point, and St. James the Apostle, Sharon. The latter church has been adopted by St. George's, Toronto.

The boys were housed in a big top-floor dormitory and slept on double-deck army cots. Each made his own bed daily and did his share of keeping the place tidy. The boys also waited at table and each did his part in dish washing.

Though of short duration, this is, so far as we know, the first attempt at organizing a residential choir school in Canada. Day choir schools are quite successful also and one such summer school is now in progress at Toronto, where some 80 boys from several city churches receive expert training at the hands of Mr. Eric Lewis of St. Simon's.

Meanwhile Appleton Lodge and its location have proved ideal for the purpose and it is hoped that the first session there may lead to growth in numbers and to year-round residence and training in the future.

News of the W.I. In North York

News for this column must be in the office Monday night. Copy must be written as briefly as possible and confined to news and reports. Other than routine reports and announcements will be printed separately.

The Belhaven branch enjoyed the last meeting of the season at the home of Mrs. Bernard Davidson with an attendance of 36 in all.

Mrs. Bernard Huntley gave an interesting and informative talk on the work of the girls' club and the need for it in any community. She traced the methods of housekeeping from the cave days to the present era and urged that all mothers train their daughters in all the arts of homemaking.

Mrs. Kidd, assistant leader, read a letter to the girls from the supervisor of home economics.

Articles relating to social life in the country were read by Eva Kay, Auldene Kidd and Muriel Willoughby. The girls then displayed the work done during the year and also showed their note books.

There was a great deal of discussion on the subject of a community playground at Belhaven to include a baseball diamond, tennis court, etc. Many methods of raising the money were suggested by the members. Further announcement later.

During the social hour ice cream, cookies and tea were served. There will be no more meetings until September.

The regular meeting of Queensville branch will be held at the home of Mrs. Floyd Cunningham on Wednesday, July 27, at 2 p.m. Please note time. Miss Frances Cranley, Mrs. Frank Milne and Mrs. Jacob Smith are to be the hostesses. The motto is: "Secrecy of success is constancy of purpose." Roll call is to be answered by a favorite salad recipe, the sample brought is to be used at lunch. The program committee is Mrs. Sidney Thompson and Mrs. Joe Jardine, who will bring us up to date on historical research and current events. Everyone welcome.

The Gormley branch meeting will be in the form of a picnic for the month of July. This is an annual event and is called "The Grandmothers' Picnic." This year is the 19th anniversary and will be held on Wednesday, July 27, at the home of Mrs. Roy Smith.

Mrs. Wm. Ash, Mrs. George Boynton and Mrs. Allan Pope are the sports committee. Everyone provide and all are welcome. The Gormley branch would like to take this opportunity to thank all those who so generously donated to the bake sale last Saturday, which was held at Wilcox Lake. A substantial sum was realized which makes the Institute members' efforts worthwhile.

Pine Orchard branch met at home of Mrs. Howard McClure on Wednesday, July 13. Program was in the charge of the Historical Research Committee. Chairman was Mrs. James Hope. Splendid paper on "Farming Yesterday and Today" was given by Mrs. William Lundy. Current events were given by Mrs. Jesse Lundy. Mrs. Rae McClure gave an excellent report on the course "Personality in Dress." Roll call was well responded to by display of antiques. Hostesses were Mrs. James Hope, Mrs. Howard McClure, Mrs. R. Chapman, Mrs. William Lundy, Mrs. Jesse Lundy and Miss Betty Hope.

Grandmothers' annual meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. A. Baxter in August.

The program has been streamlined and the clown band and fireworks added to live proceedings," he stated. The sports day is the Mount Albert Legion's only fund-raising program and the Legion is assisted in this endeavor by Mount Albert women's organizations. All proceeds are for the branch's welfare fund. Keith Stokes is president.

The sports day begins with a softball tournament of teams sponsored by Legion branches. Newmarket Veterans have held the trophy from other years, but this year, according to reports from the Mount's camp, Mount Albert is out to win it back.

A midway and games are being provided for afternoon and evening entertainment for parents and children with a variety show, directed by Dick Russell and employing top notch performers, getting underway at 8 p.m. The evening will wind up with a grand finale of fireworks and dancing to the music to Norm Burling and his Kingsmen.

Among those present will be Canada's only still walking clown, and another feature designed for fun will be the parking contest at which all licensed drivers will be able to try their hand. There will be a draw for attendance prizes.

The regular meeting of Queensville branch will be held at the home of Mrs. Floyd Cunningham on Wednesday, July 27, at 2 p.m. Please note time. Keswick Lowers The Boom On Unbeaten Pine Orchard.

It was bound to happen sooner or later. Pine Orchard finally slipped off the unbeaten road. Keswick stock is going up. They're clinging to the top rung by their finger tips. It was Keswick who lowered the boom on Pine Orchard 14-3. Keswick's willing workers circled led by Ken. Hodgins, a triple with three on, going to work on Ted Tidman and Harvey "Josh" Preston for a round of base-knocks. Harold Smith went along swimmingly to record another win. For four it was a ball game at three all. The winners made it stick with eight in the fifth. Noel Ash banged it far, far over the fence for the Orchard bright spot.

There was no indication of southern hospitality as Vandorf and Pine Orchard tangled Monday. Ab. Boak's boys are back into a winning gait with a 14-3 win. The Orchard's three servers Ted Tidman, "Josh" Preston and Bill Walker shut off the losers on four hits. Harold Botnam did well for three frames, his relief Lloyd Preston was soundly thumped. Cec. Mackay's triple plated two for "The Vans". Bill Kingdon and Bob Shropshire gave ace high outfield performance, the latter also planted three safeties to lead Orchard plate work.

Sad news all around for the Vandorf supporters last week: Brown Hill showing amazing recuperative powers emerged from the shadows of defeat with six runs in the seventh to carry off a 7-6 win. Carl Sedore excelled with a running catch in the Hill center-field. Judd Rutledge was quite the boy at the plate—a triple and two doubles. Hal. Botham and Lloyd Preston shared the defeat. Vandorf's third upending was at Keswick, though they did make it interesting for the league leaders before going down 6-4. Errors helped to overthrow the Vandorfers. Bill Kingdon and Mel. Todd supplied the fielding highlights. Clem. Ellis with three topped in the Vandorf stick work, Al. Hodgins' homer, Charlie Stevens and Claude Pollock with a pair of extra base hits, were up front for the winners.

Hope supporters have something to whoop and holler about, a 5-1 win no less over Willow Beach. Don. Glover marked his return with a well pitched effort. Cec. McNeill was touched for three in the second and two in the fifth. McNeill did a man-sized job at the plate three for three. Don. Cameron and Irwin Davidson chipped in two. Cliff Ward tripled and Don. Glover was up with two doubles. Dot. Menar took over in left field to give his hired hands some help.

This state of affairs must be stopped. Will somebody please let Queensville win. Not us, said Mount Albert, as they snowed under the under-dogs 14-2. Ken. Mitchell pitched five, Doug. Ross finishing up. Queensville's Bob English took the bumping. Hal. Watts was a going concern with a homer, triple, double and single. Doug. Ross on a five for five strong. Play up, Queensville, just got to get that first one!

There's good news from away up in the north-east corner of the league. Zephyr came up with a pair of wins to improve their standing—15-3 over Sharon. Ron. Kester chucked a winning performance. Ivan. Eves and Harold Farr shared the defeat. Clarkson Arnold drove for the circuit.

The Blues chalked up their second win at the expense of Queensville, on a 17-3 count. Ron. Kester allowed a mere seven hits. Geo. Evans was pounded for 15 safeties by the winners. Ches. Lunney and Clark Arnold rolled along on three hits each. Jack Perry, Doug. Beckett and Bill Mahbett cashed in on the Queensville markers.

Mount Albert lost a chance to move into a tie for league leadership Tuesday at Sharon. It was an eight-all draw. Ivan. Eves and Red Mitchell duelled. Mounties moved out front early with five in fourth, after two were out. Sharon revived, hauled down the advantage with late production. Hal. Watts up with a homer in the big fourth. Jack Vernon, Bruce Pegg and Ivan Eves swinging for a pair of hits each.

Biggest request has been where's the league standing. It goes this week, by crackle. Aside, to league proxy Ross Chapman, thanks for the assist. Postponed game, Pine Orchard at Willow Beach, goes Saturday evening, July 23, says "The Boss." Here's how it looks for the coming week:

July 21, Sharon at Queensville, Pine Orchard at Zephyr; July 22, Brownhill at Keswick, Vandorf at Hope; July 23, Pine Orchard at Willow Beach; July 25, Zephyr at Vandorf; Mount Albert at Pine Orchard July 20, Queensville at Hope; July 27, Vandorf at Brownhill.

HELD OVER—The junior tennis tournament will be held at the tennis courts on Wednesday, July 27, with the finals being held on the following evening. The fee is $1 and prizes will be awarded to the winners and runners-up.

Aurora, Newmarket Split Tennis Tournament Wins

In every sport when Newmarket and Aurora do battle there's keen contests in store for the fans. The tennis matches in the North York League at the Aurora courts July 13 proved no exception to the rule. Aurora and Newmarket divided the spoils at four games each. Aurora ladies annexed both their matches, the men's doubles were split even, while Newmarket evened up in the mixed doubles competition with three wins in four. Results are as follows with Aurora players named first:

Ladies' doubles: Mrs. Betty Garstang and Mrs. Holden defeated Joan Peppiatt and Joyce Bothwell, 6-4, 6-3; Connie Willis and Ruth Corner defeated Mary Dales and Margaret Davis, 6-4, 6-4;

Men's doubles: Keith Nisbet and Stan. Walker went down to defeat 5-6, 4-6 in a keenly contested match to Bob Yates and Keith Davis; Chas. Seith and Frank Wims were forced to go three sets before scoring a 5-6,

13 Goals, 16 Sins In Lacrosse Clash

It's a common expression to describe a hockey game to say "It was a blood and thunder game." Some 300 rootin'-tootin' fans in attendance at the arena last Thursday watched Newmarket and Brooklin hash each other in the duplicate in lacrosse. There was blood, there was thunder, and there were enough goals to please all the fans. The trouble with the scoring, as the local fans saw it, was that Brooklin put in 13 of the 19 goals that the scorers had to record. The way the referees saw it, 14 penalties were called, but could quite easily have tacked on ten more from where we saw it. Four of these were major offences, Perry Standeven and Hugh Ormston going off for scrapping, while two other Brooklin "Dodgers" sat out five-minute sentences for misdemeanors that passed under the heading of slashing. Both teams went home with the idea of doctoring up various bruises, bumps, and what have you.

The visitors moved in front, 10-3, at the halfway mark. Scotty Johnston, Harvey Mashinter and Jeff Elliott being the marksmen for Newmarket with Roy "Mutt" Collings gaining a pair of assists. Bob Hanna and Tom Cooney gave Newmarket the edge in the third session as the Redmen out-shot and out-scored the Dodgers two to nil. That moved the Redmen up to five while the Brooklin count stayed at ten. The invaders shot in three markers in the fourth quarter. Tom Cooney came up with his second goal to bring the Newmarket count up to six. Scotty Johnston supplied the pass for the final tally.

Lou Vipond, Ken Greer and Gord. Cook were the visitors' leading marksmen with a pair each. The fans went home satisfied and will be back for the next game. Incidentally, it's Midland here Thursday.

Newmarket line-up: goal, B. Murray; defence, P. Standeven, R. Fox; centre, R. Hanna; rover, J. Elliott; forwards, B. Collings, R. Collings; alternates, J. Greenham, R. Benville, A. Gatti, H. Mashinter, A. Johnston, T. Cooney.

Joe Learoyd, clever Sutton all-round athlete who plays his golf out at the Briars club, finished fourth in the All-Ontario junior finals last week. In the Toronto and district tournament, he was in the second slot. Mighty good at both baseball and hockey, Johnny will be right up among the top golfers in Ontario one of these days.

Harry Lehman, one-time Newmarket gorgeman, latterly a Toronto tavern owner and one of Ontario's best known race horse owners, died suddenly in the prime of life of a heart attack. Harry was popular with all who knew him and his passing came as a distinct shock. Mrs. Lehman will continue the racing activities the training stables being located at Roche's Point.

Charlie Case, former Aurora athlete and now a member of the Ontario constabulary, fell last week and fractured his shoulder. Bob Hassard, Marlboro hockeyist who is currently playing baseball with Stouffville intermediates, works out regularly with Montreal Royals when they visit Toronto. Hassard may turn pro next year. Whitey Jones, Aurora hockey and golf flash, will join the ranks of the benedicts late this month. Lacrosse recollections arising from several of our recent hits brings to our attention that Mr.

We learn via the grapevine that contracts for work at Aurora arena will not be let until near the end of August. Nobody except themselves seems to know just what the situation is at Newmarket where the recreation committee has artificial ice plans in tow. So far as the Aurora hockey picture is concerned, Red Mitchell, who coached the junior team and played with the intermediates, knows the least about it of any person.

The genial Bill will be making his plans shortly and those interested should decide what their intentions are right now. On the subject of hockey, Normie Stunden, who guarded the nets for Unionville last year and did a grand job, will be available for intermediate action as he's past the junior age limit. The line with the certificates forms at the right. Mac. Clement, burly young defenceman, missed his year at Toronto Varsity and will likely be available for district hockey too. Clement played with Varsity Bees last winter and was slated for the senior team this winter.

Large Attendance At Lions Playground

The rain Monday put a damper on the opening of the Lions club summer sports program, causing a one-day postponement. Tuesday school director, Frank Hollingsworth, and his assistant, Audrey Rowland, report the largest attendance on opening day since the program was initiated four years ago. Some 150 turned up at the park to take part. Both directors were frankly amazed at the number on hand.

The special events which were to feature the opening day including the beauty contest for boys and girls will take place this Friday afternoon at 1:30 p.m.

Invitation Tournament Planned Here on Aug. 1

As part of the act to give tennis an uplift in local circles a monster invitation tournament is being planned by the Newmarket Tennis club for Civic Holiday, August 1. The tournament is open to mens' and ladies' doubles teams and is slated to get underway at 1:30 p.m. Trophies are now being lined up by Bob Yates and Keith Davis, for the winning combinations. Invitations have been extended to Aurora, Richmond Hill, Uxbridge, Mount Albert, Clarendon, Stouffville, Barrie, Cookstown, Midland and Penetang Tennis Clubs to take part.

JUNIORS BOW TO ORCHARD

Our junior ladies softball team that we brought to your attention last week ran into trouble at the S. S. school grounds last Friday in their first home appearance. Pine Orchard providing the opposition bopped over our junior lassies by a 30-19 count. Darlene Stuffles and Jean MacDonald shared the mound duties for Newmarket. There was a fairly good attendance. Reg Ball has several more home games ready for attention in the near future.

HOLD TOURNAMENT

Newmarket—Newmarket and district open tournament at Newmarket tennis courts on August 1, at 1:30 p.m. Teams consist of ladies' doubles and men's doubles. Entry fee $1 per person. Entries may be mailed or phoned to M. Dales, box 957, Newmarket, phone 5811. Prizes for winners and runners-up. All entries must be in by July 30.

News n' Views

Looks like someone has been fooling around with the score sheets coming in this week. A very, very bad week. Deflation has hit our ball and lacrosse representatives. Should this state of affairs continue there'll be a convention of coaches. Discussion holidays. The holidays most of our teams have been enjoying has sent them off their regular hitting and fielding stride. Take the plight of the Vets, three straight league defeats, and a fourth at Zephyr Field Day. Our girls surprised at Allandale, redeem themselves on the sun-baked Stuart Scott diamond. "Shorty" Turan and Company lose to Beeton then turn the tables on the Simcoe County intermediates. Lacrosse "Redmen" find Brooklin too strong. But enough gloom—steady work methinks will remedy the defeatist movement.

Who has the most fun—why ball players. Here's a circumstance to prove it. Three on, Schomberg batter bashes out a long one into the creek skirting the Schomberg right field. Misses third on trip around, goes back to remedy his mistake. Meanwhile Harv. Gibney asks field ump. for second ball. Ump. obliges, Harv. throws home, runner trying to complete round trip tagged out. For a minute looks as though unhidden ball trick has clicked. But no. Just then original ball comes in from the creek via one of our outfielders, Schomberg get help to it. Umpire Summers reverses decision everybody safe. Schomberg swinger has homer. That's one for the books.

Joe, ice, we need ice for next winter. Recently our Aurora side-kick, "Down the Centre" Ab Hulse, commenting on artificial ice in Aurora and Newmarket, socked the nail on the head. If it's to be a reality in either or both towns action must be taken now. At present the Newmarket contribution sits at $10,000, a further ten is needed immediately if a move is to be made. Now is the hour for one and all interested in seeing Newmarket with artificial ice this coming winter to pitch in. Further delay will only put the project out of bounds for this coming winter. Our objective is only going to be reached by everyone taking an interest. It's been said again and again we're going about raising the dough the wrong way. Maybe so, other centres, Bolton, Beeton, Nobleton and Kincardine to name a few put it over under similar conditions. It was decided months ago by the local committee to make the attempt in this way. That's all water under the bridge. Speculation on who'll run the rink years from now won't raise money, and that is what is needed. Have seen the plans for the proposed changes at the rink as lined up by Fred Thompson and his committee and if the deal can be swung there won't be many better rinks north of the Maple Leaf Gardens. Properly managed artificial ice in the "Memorial" arena should pay for itself and give the children of town, hockey teams and skaters a full schedule. Let's get on with the canvassing job.

Haskett's hash: Interviewing "Ceegears" McDonald early today we quote "The Vets will positively snap out of their slump this week." Ceegears indicates it's just a temporary let-down due to holidays. Aurora, meantime, sails serenely along atop the league knocking off all opposition as it comes along. One big fact remains, Vets can spill the front runners from their lofty perch. The rivals have four games up for decision before the regular grind shuts down. Aurora recently added Mac Clement, Normie Stunden and the Rumney brothers, Jack and George, from Victoria Square, to their roster. Must give them about the youngest outfit in the circuit. Hiya, kiddies! They'll be strong contenders, might upset the Vets' apple-cart, at least will make it a rocky road to a fourth championship for Mac's men.

Bernard McElaine went back into harness, umpire's harness, for the Beeton-Newmarket baseball tilt at Bond Head. "Mac" put on a show and everyone, players and fans alike, knew what was what. This confirms our suspicions—if umpires would put color into their work—the fans would enjoy it, games would go off faster and attendance figures would rise. Don't think this is new but it's timely. The McElaine brothers, Bernard and Jim, Carl Turan and Ollie Gould taking a squint at the Beeton baseball layout—"that's what we need in Newmarket." The infield is perhaps the best in the district, there's adequate seating and bleachers. And the cost—not a great deal, some work, some financial backing, and it could be put across at Pantry Park.

Your sport's calendar reads like this: Midland invasion due tonight (Thursday); ladies' softball, league leaders, at the park. Play up Courtney and company. Their lacrosse side pitted against the Redmen at the arena. Friday evening—baseball—rubber match between Beeton and Newmarket—now at a game each. Tuesday—ah bolt down the hatches Aurora and Vets clash for the first time locally this semester.

Give now to assure artificial ice for next winter.

Aurora Wins 12th In 13 Games Played

With Andy O'Neil pitching four hit ball, and aiding his own cause with a resounding homer, Aurora Meteors scored their twelfth win in 13 starts on Tuesday night by downing North York Lions 10-0. Aurora played great ball to give O'Neil a shut-out, five times leaving the visitors with a man stranded on third base. Doolittle and Simmons came up with some great fielding plays while Art Crean led the hit parade with three in North York Lions despite the caulsing played crowd pleasing ball. Ken Whitehorn in left field played terrific ball for six great catches, one of the shoe-string variety. Russ Hunter on the mound and Ken Davies behind the bat also looked mighty good. Simmons and Murray handled the umpiring chore in fine style.

Last week Woodbridge tied Aurora 4-4, the closest Meteors have come to defeat this year.
